MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

THE ALDERMEN.

The Board [illegible] in the Chair. A communication was received from the Commissioner of Repairs and Supplies, transmitting the complaints of the Superintendent of Pavements in regard to the state of the pavement in Chatham-street and other parts of the City, there being over 300 miles of pavement in the City, over two-thirds of which is out of repair, and for the repairing of which the present appropriation is insufficient. The communication was referred to the Committee on Streets.

A MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR.

The following message was received from the Mayor and read:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW-YORK, Friday, April 11, 1856.
To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

[illegible]

FERNANDO WOOD, Mayor.

Alderman VOORHIS moved that the message be referred to the present Chairman of the Supervisors.

Alderman CLANCY—Who is it? There is none.

Alderman VOORHIS—The Alderman of the Seventeenth has been duly elected as such.

Alderman CLANCY—I cannot recognize him. I move the message lay on the table.

The motion was put and lost.

Alderman ELY rose and explained his position, contending that he had been legally, though without his consent, elected as Chairman of the Supervisors. A very long debate ensued, in which Aldermen CLANCY and ELY took the principal part.

Alderman CLANCY moved to amend by referring it to the Clerk, instead of the Chairman of the Supervisors. Lost.

Finally the motion was adopted, by the following vote:

AYES—Aldermen Corwin, Fox, Tucker, Voorhis, Griffiths, Briggs, Barker, Fulmer, Ely, Valentine and Drake.
NAYS—Aldermen Healy, Hoffmire, Clancy, Jackson, Brennan, Herrick, McConkey and Varian.

FINES.

The Corporation Attorney informed the Board that the receipts in his office for fines for the violation of Corporation ordinances, etc., for the month of March, were $117 75.

FIRE WARDENS.

A communication was received from the representatives of the Fire Department, transmitting the names of the following persons, elected as Fire Wardens: Geo. C. Brown, Theodore Keeley, Wm. H. McDonald and John T. Harding.

The Board concurred with the Councilmen in awarding the contract for building an iron bell-tower on Mount Morris (Harlem) to Julius Kroell, for the sum of $9,500. The Board also resolved to lay a four-inch Croton-water pipe into the City Hall. After the transaction of some further unimportant business, the Board adjourned until Monday next, at 5 P. M.

THE COUNCILMEN.

The Commissioners of Emigration to be Removed from Castle Garden.

THE COST OF CLEANING THE STREETS.

The Board of Councilmen met on Wednesday evening, President PINCKNEY in the Chair, and transacted the following business:

EXTENDING AND WIDENING THE STREETS.

A petition was received and referred to the Committee on Streets, asking to have Sixth-avenue extended to West Broadway, and West Broadway through College-place to Greenwich-street; also, to widen Greenwich-street, on the east side, so as to make the said thoroughfare eighty feet wide; also, a petition in favor of having Reade-street widened on the south side of the street instead of the north, as now proposed.

THE LEGISLATURE AND THE MILITARY.

The following preamble and resolution were passed:

Whereas, attempts are now being made to force through the Legislature of the State of New-York a certain amendatory act in relation to the State military department, particularly applicable to the City of New-York, and thereby under other names, to make heavy appropriations out of the City Treasury for the support of new, extraordinary and oppressive organizations to increase the burden of taxes upon the City to nearly forty thousand dollars, without the consent of those most conversant with the financial condition of our City, and without the consent of the Municipal Government of the City, therefore,

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed from this Board to inquire into the subject, with power to take such immediate action to prevent the passage of any such act as the occasion may require.

COMMON COUNCIL CARRIAGE-HIRE.

The following resolution was offered by Mr. CLIFTON, and laid over under the rule:

Resolved, That the Comptroller be, and is hereby authorized and directed to pay all the bills now due for carriage-hire of Members of the Common Council, which have been incurred by said members, when on official business of the City, since the 1st of October, 1855; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Comptroller is hereby directed to pay such bills as shall hereafter be incurred for carriage-hire by Members of the Common Council, when necessary for the furtherance of the business of the Corporation, provided every such bill shall contain the name of the party, the date and the length of time said carriage was in use, and the purpose for which it was employed.

The following was added by Mr. BARTH:

Providing no one member's bill does or shall amount to more than $200 per annum.

CITY CARS ON THE HUDSON RIVER RAILROAD.

A petition was received and referred, asking to have accommodation, on City cars on the Hudson River Railroad, from Fifty-second-street to Chambers-street.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The Police Committee presented a report, which was referred to the Committee of the Whole, recommending that the Legislature be petitioned to enact some law whereby the Police Department may be rendered more efficient than it is at present. The report reflects the popular feeling concerning the frequency of burglaries and the rarity of arrests.

THE EMIGRANT DEPOT AT CASTLE GARDEN.

The report of the Special Committee adverse to the use of Castle Garden as an Emigrant depôt, was called up and debated at some length.

Mr. [illegible] thought that if the Commissioners of Emigration were driven from Castle Garden, the immigrants would suffer by it.

Mr. BARTH would not defend [illegible]; all he had to say was, that the business and property of those in Battery-place and elsewhere on the line, had suffered materially, and therefore he was in favor of the removal of the Commissioners.

Mr. COWEN had been in favor of retaining Castle Garden as an immigrant depôt, but after having heard testimony pro and con, he favored the removal.

Mr. GRAY thought the loss of business and depreciation of property was in consequence of the [illegible] to which the Battery enlargement had been conducted, and not because Castle Garden had been converted into an emigrant depôt.

Mr. MERRITT favored the removal.

After some further debate the ayes and noes were called on a motion to lay the whole subject on the table, with the following result: Ayes, 15; Noes, 28.

The ayes and noes were then called on the adoption of the report, and it was lost by the following vote: Ayes, 20; Noes, 19—not a constitutional majority.

Subsequently the vote was reconsidered and the report laid on the table.

After passing the ordinance relative to the sale of young veal, the report of the Committee on Castle Garden was called up again, and carried, to concur with the Aldermen, by a vote of 28 Ayes to 17 Noes.

The ordinance relative to cleaning streets, nearly the same as published in the TIMES of February 14, was debated at some length in Committee of the Whole. It was slightly amended and ordered to a third reading, when the Committee rose and the Board adjourned.

The Board met yesterday, BENJAMIN F. PINCKNEY, Esq., President, in the Chair.

ISAAC O. HUNT was elected for the Twenty-fourth District, in place of R. S. DIXON, deceased, and took his seat.

The ordinance for cleaning streets, as amended, was read a third time and passed by a vote of 35 to 11.

The Board then went into Committee of the Whole and adopted several resolutions and reports, which were ordered to a third reading.

The New-York Passenger and Baggage Line.

The Councilmen's Committee on Ordinances met yesterday, to hear the parties asking to be incorporated under the name of the "New-York Passenger and Baggage Line."

Mr. W. W. LELAND first appeared. He said he had been connected with hotels in New-York since 1833, and knew of the monstrous, impudent and barefaced extortion to which passengers arriving in New-York were subjected by the owners and drivers of hacks and cabs. The object of the New-York Passenger and Baggage Line was to protect passengers from these impositions. As it was now, all the leading hotels require some twenty horses each. This plan would require but the number of horses at present used at the St. Nicholas and Metropolitan Hotels, and a proportionate reduction in the number of men employed. They proposed to carry each passenger and his baggage to any portion of the City for twenty-five cents, and they expected to make money by it. The amount at present charged varied from seventy-five cents to two dollars.

Councilman MERRITT said that hackmen had not grown rich by their extortions.

Mr. LELAND—It is not their fault. The only thing that should have induced to the contrary, is the fact that in iniquity there is not prosperity. A system like the one they proposed had been adopted in London and Paris, and other leading cities of the Old World, as also in numerous cities of the United States. It worked to a charm. The beauty of the system was, that it prevented the passenger from coming in connection with the driver.

Mr. CYRUS LAWTON followed with an extended defence of the good effects of the proposed incorporation. The points were, that the establishment of a new baggage and passenger line would not be detrimental to hack proprietors or any class of people in New-York; that responsible parties were at the head of the new Company, and that besides, being justly conducted, it would prove a great benefit to citizens generally, as well as strangers visiting New-York. He claimed that the Company did not desire a monopoly, but were willing to pay license to the City and take its chances with other public conveyances. After Mr. LAWTON, the members of the Committee, and others present amused themselves and each other by recitals of the impositions to which they had been respectively subjected by hack and cab drivers. The most pointed circumstance related was by Councilman MERRITT. He said he went to Albany some time since, before he got to be Councilman, and with his wife took a hack to be driven to a hotel some forty rods from the railroad dépôt. As he did not travel very often, he thought he would be quite liberal, and so upon reaching the hotel, put his hand in his pocket and offered the driver seventy-five cents.

"No you don't," said the driver. "My charge is two dollars."

"Here, wife, take this carpet bag," said Mr. MERRITT, "while I whip this man."

Mr. MERRITT said the driver immediately took the seventy-five cents offered him. Subsequently, upon being informed by Mr. MERRITT that he was a carman from New-York, and somewhat "posted" as to hack charges, the driver sought reparation by asking him to drink.

The Committee, both sides having been heard, announced that no further public meetings would be held, and that they would report speedily upon the matter before them.

THE PUEBLA REVOLUTION—CONDITIONS OF THE SURRENDER.

From the N. O. Picayune, April 5.

Since the account of the surrender of the Puebla revolutionists, published in yesterday morning's Picayune, we have been favored with the official account of the occurrence which we subjoin. It was published in a supplement or extra to the Vera Cruz Progreso, of the 28th ult.:

"The reaction which made Puebla its head-quarters," says the Progreso, "has terminated in the surrender of the rebels who had promoted it! The only particulars that we have upon this important event, will be found by the reader in the following important documents, just received by his Excellency the Governor of this State. We omit all comment at present, in order not to delay the publication of this extra.

Private Correspondence of the President of the Republic.—To the Most Excellent Sr. D. Ignacio de la Llave, Vera Cruz.—Puebla, March 22, 1856, 3 o'clock, A. M.—My esteemed friend: After a previous day and night of great fatigue, I have scarcely time to inform you that this city is now in possession of the Supreme Government. I have agreed to a capitulation in the terms of which I send you a copy, in order to spare the city from greater miseries.

In accordance with this, and with the disposition to be made of the surrendering officers, some will have to leave the Republic; and I have to-day given to General D. LEONARDO MARQUEZ a passport for that purpose, of which I inform you, that, being aware of the fact, you may keep him under surveillance from the time of his arrival at your port until his embarkation.

I do not desire to keep back this gratifying information from you, and, therefore, I send it to you by express, in confidence, until appropriate circulars, circulars shall be issued. I remain, &c., J. COMONFORT.

Army of Operations on Puebla—General-in-Chief—Field Secretariat: Considering that civil war is the greatest of evils for a nation, especially at the moment when it is endeavoring to establish itself; that the power of the Government is recognized by the State to which the insurgent forces have been confined: that these are ready to submit to obey the Government, by which the desired result is attained in the state of political affairs, while the misery and destruction to which the innocent inhabitants of this city would otherwise be reduced are avoided:—the Most Excellent Señor, the President, General in-Chief of the Army of Operations on Puebla, has deemed it meet to agree to the following capitulation, through the M. E. Sr., the Governor of Guanajuato, D. MANUEL DOBLADO, and Generals D. VICENTE ROSAS and RAMON IGLESIAS, nominated by his Excellency, and Sr. LICENCIADO D. PASCUAL ALMAZAN, and Generals D. IGNACIO ORMACHEA and D. MIGUEL ANDRADE, nominated by Gen. D. CARLOS ORONOZ, on whom the command of the insurgent forces has fallen:

'ART. 1. The troops in garrison in the Square of Puebla shall be at the disposition of the Supreme Government, and shall remain quartered at such points as the latter shall designate, under the strictest responsibility of their respective chiefs.

ART. 2. The wishes of the troops shall be consulted, and absolute freedom shall be at once granted to all privates who do not desire to continue to bear arms.

ART. 3. The Major-General of the army of operations against Puebla shall designate the places in which the artillery and the stores for the park shall be deposited, the delivery of both to be attested by the person or persons whom the Government shall appoint to receive and take charge of them.

ART. 4. The Generals, chiefs, and officers in the square, shall proceed to take up their residence at the points to be indicated by the Supreme Government, while the latter shall determine in what manner they are to remain in the army.

ART. 5. The property of private persons, which may have been taken for the defence or service of the place, and which may be in it on its being occupied by the besieging army, shall be restored to its owners on claim and identification.

ART. 6. The wounded of the place shall be considered and assisted the same as those of the Supreme Government.

ART. 7. The Government shall dictate such measures as it may deem proper, in order to provide for the security of the persons and property of the city.

ART. 8. As soon as this capitulation shall be signed, the M. E. Señor, the President, shall designate the hour and manner of occupying the place.

PUEBLA, March 22, 1856.—Manuel Doblado, Vincente Rosas, Ramon Iglesias, Pascual Almazan, José Ignacio Ormachea y Ernaiz, Miguel Andrade.

Copy.—Headquarters, in Carmen, Puebla, March 22 1856. J. M. CAMPUZANO, Secretary.'"

FROM WASHINGTON.

Mr. Seward's Speech—Then and Now—Committee Business—Tariff—Army.

Special Correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, April 9, 1856.

It is quite unnecessary that I should say anything of Mr. SEWARD's surpassing speech on the Kansas question, made to-day, for ere this reaches you it will already be spread before your hundred thousand readers, few of whom, having commenced its perusal, will be content to lay it down unfinished. I think it has been my good fortune to hear every speech which Mr. SEWARD ever made in the Senate of the United States, and I am quite sure that, brilliant and forcible as were those of former Sessions, his effort of to-day o'ertopped them all. He was listened to with great attention by a full Senate, and by crowded galleries, and I believe no one questions the eloquence or ability with which he handled the important subject of discussion, although, of course, there are many who feel bound to differ with, but will find it exceedingly difficult to answer, him.

THEN AND NOW—TIME'S CHANGES.

As I noted the rapt attention of his auditors, my mind naturally reverted to the period when Mr. SEWARD first addressed his fellow-Senators—now seven years ago. Then those who were opposed to him, blinded by prejudice, would scarcely listen to him with decent respect. To-day, their silent attention evidenced the conviction that the Senator from New-York is a gentleman to be heard, and not despised. Mr. SEWARD has already lived down a mountain of prejudice and calumny, and the little molehill which still remains is rapidly sinking away in the light of a nation's advancement in knowledge and truth. The day has come when he is recognized as orthodox, and his sentiments in behalf of Freedom—once thoughtlessly condemned as too radical and almost revolutionary—are recognised by millions of his fellow-countrymen as the inceptions of soberness, justice, and truth.

COMMITTEE BUSINESS—ABSENTEEISM.

Congress presented little of interest to-day beyond this speech. In the House some little progress was made with the Deficiency bill, and we may hope to see that out of the way by the middle of next week. A large number of members are absent, and there consequently is little disposition to press business, either in the House or in the Standing Committees. It is deemed highly important that the Committee on Territories should immediately report a bill for the admission of Kansas as a State; but it unfortunately happens that, in consequence of the absence of some of our friends, the Administration men have at this time a majority in that Committee. It is to be hoped the absentees will not delay their return.

THE TARIFF—RAILROAD IRON AND WOOL.

The Committee on Ways and Means will not consider the subject of the Tariff at all until after the return of Mr. CAMPBELL, of Ohio, the Chairman, who is expected back by the middle of the month. The advocates of free railroad iron have been represented here several times since the session commenced but I think they have pretty much given up all idea of getting the legislation they desire, as the Committee on Ways and Means is against it. The advocates of free wool are more hopeful,—and I think a strong effort will be made to carry a repeal of the duties on raw wool, either as a special measure, or by amendment of an Appropriation bill. I am, however, by no means sanguine that the move will be successful.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION—SENATOR TOUCEY.

The result of the Connecticut election is, of course, hailed with great joy by our friends, and especially because it puts an end to TOUCEY's Senatorial career, than whom no man in Congress is more justly entitled to the palm for "doughface-ism." He is pretty sure, however, to alight upon his feet whenever he falls; so we may expect the President to find some vacancy on a Judicial bench somewhere, to which he can be appointed just before the expiration of his term. Mr. GILLETTE, who preceded Mr. FOSTER temporarily, and Mr. DIXON, who was a popular member of the Thirty-first Congress, I think, are each spoken of for the succession.

THE RHODE ISLAND SENATOR.

Mr. JAMES, of Rhode Island, will also vacate his seat on the 4th of March next. I have heard no one spoken of especially to succeed him; but if the choice is to be based upon the experience and eminent fitness of the nominee, it may reasonably be expected that Ex-Governor THURSTON will be the man. He was formerly a Democrat, but abandoned his party on the Nebraska issue, and has stood ever since among the most devoted friends of Freedom.

RELIEF FOR THE ARMY.

A few days since I referred to the importance and necessity of some provision by law for the relief of our troops serving on frontier posts, by an increase of the present price of the ration. The following extract from a private letter of an officer serving in Texas, is a fair sample of many which I have seen from similar sources.

"I am living in one room for parlor, bedroom and all. We cook out of doors,—but are contented, or we would be, we think, if we could buy our butter, eggs, potatoes, flour, &c., a little cheaper, or have a little more means to buy them with. Butter is 40 cents per pound with us. Eggs 40 cents per dozen, potatoes 10 cents the pound, flour $27 a barrel, &c., &c. We cannot make gardens, for we are liable to be ordered off at any hour."

I think if the Military Committee will make a fair computation of the cost of living at these rates, and report the facts to the House in proper shape, it cannot fail to acknowledge the necessity of some legislation that shall afford the soldier a decent living. S.

GREAT FIRES IN PHILADELPHIA.

The Artisans' Building Totally Destroyed—Loss About $350,000—Fire in Bingham's Court.

From the Bulletin of yesterday.

The most destructive conflagration (so far as the amount of loss is concerned) that has occurred in this city since the great fire of July, 1850, took place this morning. The fire broke out in the large building on Ranstead-place, known as the Artisans' Building. The flames, when first discovered, at about midnight, or shortly after, were confined to a room in the east wing of the fifth story, occupied by S. P. UPDIKE, gold chain maker. The fire commenced near an escape-steam pipe in a portion of the premises where no fire was used, and its origin is involved in mystery. The flames made but slow progress at first, but the smoke was so dense that the firemen, who were early in service, found it impossible to reach the fire.

The principal entrance to the property was from Ranstead-place, a narrow passage at the head of which it stood. There was also a branch of the building that had a front upon Merchant-street. The immense size of the structure, its peculiar construction, and its cooped-up position, all operated against the efforts to save it, and the consequence was that the fire spread from story to story, and from apartment to apartment, until the vast edifice was enveloped in flames from top to bottom, belching forth fire and smoke, and spreading ruin and dismay around. The flames quickly communicated to the rear of the United States Hotel, and the northern end of that large building was soon in a light blaze.

The boarders in the house moved out most of their baggage, and a good portion of the furniture of the hotel was also removed. The firemen introduced side-streams into the hotel, and, although much of the back part was constructed of wood, they succeeded in keeping the fire in check, and in preventing it from extending through the main body of the hotel.

On the east of the Artisans' Building, the flames spread to several large structures, some of which were entirely destroyed.

The scene, during the height of the conflagration, was appalling. The wind was blowing freshly from the northward, and the flames, fanned into fury, were leaping upward, illuminating the entire city, and threatening to involve in destruction the entire block bounded by Fourth, and Fifth, and Chestnut, and Merchant streets.

Showers of sparks and burning flakes were carried to an immense distance, setting fire to several places squares distant. Around the immediate neighborhood of the conflagration the store-keepers and proprietors of workshops were busy in the effort to remove their goods to places of safety. About 2 o'clock the walls of the Artisans' Building commenced falling, and considerable damage was done in this way. Several persons were hurt, and a man named ALLEN was so badly crushed that his life was despaired of.

Below we give the names of the sufferers, the estimated amount of their losses, and the amount insured, so far as we could ascertain them, in the confusion that exists.

THE ARTISANS' BUILDING.

The Artisans' Building, the dimensions and construction of which we have already described, was built by Mr. H. COWPERTHWAIT, and it was completed in the Winter of 1848-49. The building, together with an 80 horse steam-engine in the basement, cost $85,000. The destruction of the building and machinery was complete, and very little was saved by the occupants. Mr. COWPERTHWAIT was insured for $35,000. There were a great number of tenants in the building, and not less than three hundred operatives were engaged upon the various floors. The tenants were as follows:

Fourth Floor.—JAMES BURK, printer of cloths and satinets; loss $60,000, insured for $10,000. Mr. BURK occupied the North and East wings on this floor. JAMES WATTS, silversmith. Loss $2,000. No insurance. There was some machinery upon the premises of Mr. WATTS that belonged to HENRY DUBOSQ, jeweller. J. H. CAMP, lithographer; loss $6,000. Insured for $2,000.

Second Floor.—P. S. DUVAL & Co., lithographers, occupied the entire second floor. Their loss is immense. They had thirty or forty presses in operation, and a great number of valuable stones, pictures and materials. Among the stones were a number belonging to the United States Government, which were illustrations for the forthcoming history of the Japan Expedition. There was also about $6,000 worth of finished work belonging to the Government, that was destroyed. The loss on the second floor is estimated at $100,000, upon which there was an insurance of $20,000.

Third Floor.—EDWARD GASKILL, bookbinder, occupied the north and east wings of the third floor. He had a large stock of work and materials on hand, part of which belonged to the United States Government. The loss upon their premises is probably not less than $20,000. We have not learned whether there was an insurance upon this property.

Fourth Floor—GEORGE W. SIMONS & BROTHER, Gold Pencil Makers, occupied the greater part of the fourth floor. Not a cent's worth of their property was saved, except such stock and materials as were in their fire-proofs. The latter have not been opened. The Messrs. SIMONS estimate their loss in machinery, tools, &c., at $20,000. They have an insurance of $6,000 upon their property. C. & C. P. WARNER, watch-case makers, occupied the west wing of the fourth floor. Their loss is about $10,000. We could not learn the amount of their insurance. NATHAN MORGAN, spectacle frame maker, occupied the east portion of this floor. Loss, $8,000; insured for $5,000.

Fifth Floor—S. UPDYKE, chain maker. Loss, $4,000; insured for $2,000. It was in this apartment the fire originated. SAMUEL B. HARKINS, electro plater and gilder. Loss, $2,000; partly insured. GEORGE HEPPARD, jeweler. Mr. H. worked for the Messrs. SIMONS. His loss is in tools—$300 will probably cover it. CHAS. WILLIAMS, paper marbler. Loss, $4,000; no insurance.

This estimate makes the loss in the Artisans' Building alone $195,300.

RANSTEAD-PLACE.

The property on the south side of Ranstead-place, below the Artisans' Building, was not damaged in any considerable degree—the only injury being the catching of the roofs of one or two of the houses. On the north side, No. 1 was occupied on the first story as a lager-beer saloon—loss about $200. Second and third stories by Mr. DONNELBOWER, printer—loss estimated at about $5,000. Fourth story by Mr. SAMUEL N. FOSTER, embosser and fancy label manufacturer—loss about $3,000. All these tenants lost everything, stock, tools, and materials. No. 3 was occupied by EDWARD JONES, stair-rod manufacturer, on the first floor. Mr. J.'s loss is about $1,000; we learn that he was insured. Second and third floors, KITE & WALTON, printers; loss $6,000—insured $5,000. Fourth floor, Messrs. FISHER & BROTHER, printers. Messrs. F. & BROTHER are insured to the extent of $5,000, but their loss will far exceed this. They have lost all their stereotype plates, five presses, and a large quantity of materials. We heard their loss estimated at $12,000.

The buildings No. 3 and 4 were of brick, five stories in height. They were estimated at about $8,000 each. They were insured.

MERCHANT-STREET.

The portion of the Artisan's Building that stood on Merchant-street was saved, as it was in a measure detached from the main structure. MERRIHEW & THOMPSON, printers; MOSS & BROTHER, book-binders; B. FRANKLIN JACKSON, printer; DREER & WINSELL, jewelers; and WOOD & CHRISTY, agents, occupied this portion of the property. The damage here was mostly by water. MOSS & BRO. and Mr. JACKSON estimate their losses at $1,500 each. The other tenants escaped serious damage. There were a number of other buildings on Merchant-street that were more or less damaged. The rear end of DUFFY's stable was crushed by the falling walls. The back part of the packing-box manufactory of C. & D. STEWART was crushed and burned. J. S. WARNER, silver surgical instrument maker, and other occupants of property on Merchant-street, suffered some damage from the removal of their goods and from water. The stables of the Black Bear Inn, at the corner of Fifth and Merchant-street, were crushed by the falling walls.

We estimate the damage on Merchant street, outside of the Artisan's Building, at about $4,000.

FOURTH-STREET.

Some of the occupants of the stores on the west side of Fourth-street suffered from water, and several persons moved some of their goods.

INCIDENTS.

One of the most melancholy incidents of this disastrous conflagration was the death of an elderly lady named Miss MARY ANN CHRISTIE, living in Chestnut-street, immediately east of the United States Hotel. During the height of the conflagration Miss CHRISTIE became so much alarmed that she died from terror.

When the west wall fell, a man, named BARTHOLOMEW ALLEN, said to belong to the Western Engine, was on the roof of STEWART's carpenter shop, and was buried beneath the mass of burning ruins. His injuries are of a very severe character, several ribs being broken, and he being badly burned in a number of places about the body.

RICE & HURT, Publishers, No. 27 Minor-street, lost $1,500 worth of books in Mr. GASKILL's bindery, and all the valuable steel engravings for the "Portrait Gallery of Distinguished Americans," which cost over forty thousand dollars, are in a vault under the ruins. It is hoped they may be saved. No insurance.

THE FIRE IN BINGHAM'S-COURT.

When the fire in Ranstead-place was in progress, and the sparks were flying southward, the roof of a large four-story brick building, in Bingham's-court, caught fire from some of the flying sparks. The roof was completely burned off, and every portion of the building drenched with water, thus damaging it materially. It was occupied by a number of German families, most of whom removed their goods. The owner of the house is Dr. JAYNE. The loss is about $5,000, from fire and water, and the insurance is $3,500.

The Suspected Privateer America at Rio de Janeiro—Difficulty between Commodore Salter and a British Admiral—Right of Search Resisted.

The following account from the Washington Organ, of the difficulty at Rio between the English Admiral and American Commodore, at that port, in relation to the suspected Privateer America, confirms what was lately published in our Rio correspondence, and gives, at the same time, some additional particulars of interest:

"We have seen a letter from one of the officers of United States ship Savannah, under date of Feb. 11, at Rio de Janeiro, addressed to a gentleman of this city, giving some important information on this subject.

It seems that the English squadron, of which Sir HOPE JOHNSON is Admiral, was lying in the harbor of Rio, and that the steamer America, Capt. HUDSON, belonging to and sailing from the United States, was there also. The English Admiral, on that morning, sent a Lieutenant on board the Savannah to inform Commodore SALTER that, from late information received, he believed the America to be a Russian Privateer, and that she was loaded with arms and ammunition for the Russian possessions in the Pacific, and that he felt it his duty to search her. To this message Commodore SALTER returned answer, that under no condition should he allow an English officer to search a vessel bearing the American flag.

Captain HUDSON, of the America, came on board the Savannah and denied the charge. He was perfectly willing to be searched by the officers of the Savannah, or the Custom-House officers of Rio; but he would not submit to anything of the kind from the English or French, and threatened, if they sent a searching party on board, to throw them overboard.

On the morning of the 12th another message was received from Admiral JOHNSON, who was not satisfied with Captain HUDSON's denial of the charge, but still insisted on the right to search the America. Commodore SALTER sent back a warm answer, which was met by a threat on the part of the Admiral to follow, overhaul and search the America at sea.

This caused the Commodore to cease all communication with the English, and bend all his energies to preparing his ship for sea and for action. A letter was sent him from the Admiral by a British lieutenant, but the letter was returned unopened. At the time of writing, the ship was ready for sea, her boats being all hoisted in, and the ship unmoored and riding at single anchor.

The America was to sail the next morning, and tow the Savannah to sea with her—the Commodore declaring that, though the English force was treble his own, he would fire upon them at the first attempt to make a forcible search. The officers and crew of the Savannah were excited by the prospect of an engagement with such odds, but hopeful of victory.

Such was the certainty of an engagement that a number of the foreign residents of Rio had chartered a steamboat to accompany the two squadrons to sea, in order that they might witness the engagement.

From advices from Rio de Janeiro, we learn that the reason that Admiral JOHNSON, of the British squadron, insisted on searching the steamship America, which touched at that port on her way from New-York via Pernambuco to San Francisco, was, that he had received an affidavit from SAMUEL ADAMS, late second mate of the America, intelligence that she had guns concealed under her coal, and also ammunition; that she had two sets of papers, and that while she claimed to be an American vessel she was in fact a Russian privateer.

Commodore SALTER, of the American squadron, called Captain HUDSON, of the America, on board the frigate Savannah, and questioned him as to this statement. The charge was strenuously denied, and accompanied with a request that a searching party should be sent on board. This request the Commodore granted. The result was, that Lieutenant LE ROY and boatswain WHITAKER, who led the searching party, reported in writing that they had examined every part of the America possible, and that no vestige of the alleged ammunition was found. Captain HUDSON was once connected with the United States Navy. The man EDWARDS was shipped at Rio as second mate of the America, but was discharged the same day as incapable of doing the duty of that office.

FROM KANSAS.

Legal Proceedings—Annoyances of the Free-State Men—Legislative.

Special Correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Times.

LAWRENCE, Kansas, Monday, March 31, 1856.

Our neighbors at Hickory Point are again being imposed upon by the Pro-Slavery crew in that vicinity. A few days since, writs were served upon Messrs. GLEASON & JACOB BRANSON, by a bogus Sheriff, commanding them to appear, at a specified time, before a bogus Justice of the Peace of Douglas County; the former gentleman to answer to a suit made against him by COLEMAN, the murderer of the lamented Dow, charging Mr. GLEASON with cutting timber on his (COLEMAN's) claim, and claiming one hundred dollars damages. Mr. BRANSON was summoned as a witness in the case. Both gentlemen considered the process only as an attempt to get up a row, or to make them recognize the authority of the Courts established by the Barons at the Shawnee Mission, consequently, no notice was taken of the summons.

COLEMAN got a judgment against GLEASON of two hundred dollars for damages, and Mr. BRANSON was fined forty dollars for contempt of Court. To get the money was the next thing to do; and on Saturday last, SAM SALTUS, Deputy Sheriff, COLEMAN, and about forty others, went to the house of Mr. GLEASON, father of the one who was accused of taking timber, and by force of arms, took his two horses, harnesses and wagon, and drove off with them to the house of Mr. BRANSON, to steal a yoke of oxen. They found it very difficult to drive the brutes, who did not like the company, and so they left them, saying they would return the next week and take the oxen. The party under the command of SALTUS were all armed, it is said, with United States rifles, furnished by WILSON SHANNON, late Governor of Kansas, out of those furnished to the militia of the Territory of Kansas by Congress. COLEMAN, who murdered Dow in cold blood, is still at large, and seems to be a very prominent man in all the Pro-Slavery rows, &c.

The following note was sent by the latter gentleman to Mr. HITCH, who had taken a vacant prairie claim at Hickory Point: MARCH 8, 1856.

Mr. Hitch—I am informed that you have taken possession of a prairie claim.

I hereby notify you to desist and not interfere with my House or Rails in any manner whatever. I order you to go out of the [illegible], which entitles me to 160 acres, 160 acres by promotion, and 160 acres by purchase. If you don't abandon it, I will enforce the laws against you. —Yours, E. S. COLEMAN.

The Legislature [illegible] for they have dared to repeal them all, and to set up a new order of things, having in view the promotion of Slavery and the Pro-Slavery Party, and the expulsion from Kansas of everyone in favor of freedom. The people of Kansas have done and will do all they can to repeal the bogus Legislature, hoping Congress will finish the business, and admit our young State into the Union instanter.

Yours, [illegible]

NEW-YORK CITY.

Another Letter from Mr. Barnum.

Mr. BARNUM has written a letter to a creditor in Boston, dated New-York, April 8, in relation to his troubles. He tells the story of his embarrassments and sacrifices, and adds:

I have got about half a bushel of writs and processes, and am compelled nearly every day to swear before some Court that I am not [illegible] junction to that effect by legal mandate. All these things involve heavy costs, which creditors must pay, for I cannot do it, my property being taken from me, and locked up in the hands of [illegible] trustees, assignees, &c.

If, however, you and the rest of the creditors choose to take my property, you may "divide the spoils" as you choose, without let or hindrance from me. This, of course, is all I can say or do. Yours, truly, P. T. BARNUM.

Republican Organization—Seventeenth Ward.

The Republicans of the Seventeenth Ward met Thursday evening at No. 79 Third-street, and formed an association, with SAMUEL R. SMITH as Chairman, pro tem., and J. C. PINCKNEY Secretary.

After considerable discussion a Committee consisting of Messrs. SALTER, CAMPBELL, [illegible] and SHIELDS was appointed to report a plan of organization at an adjourned meeting to be held on Saturday evening.

It was very dusty again yesterday. If we only had a supply of water in the City, and but one sprinkling cart, and a Commissioner of Streets and Lamps who had an eye for something [illegible], yesterday would have been a delightful day. As it was, the less said of its beauty the better.

The wind was south-west last night, [illegible] up. There was a circle round the moon [illegible] men will take the hint and act accordingly.

There were two Bloomers in Broadway last night. No attempt was made to [illegible] them.

Bishop O'Reilly on Board the Pacific.

From the Freeman's Journal.

Our distrust of the report that Bishop O'REILLY was in Ireland on Feb. 4, proves [illegible] but too well grounded. A gentleman who arrived in the last steamer states positively that the Bishop of Hartford left Graham's Hotel, Liverpool, with his trunks to go aboard the Pacific. There remains, therefore, no doubt that he is the "Mr. O'REILLY" whose name is [illegible]

New-York University.

The annual catalogue of the University of the City of New-York is just published. The students connected with this institution are classified as follows:

The charge of conspiracy against [illegible] LEONARD E. WARNER & [illegible] on the complaint of [illegible], was, after a protracted and critical examination, brought to a close on Monday last, by the [illegible] of the charge and the honorable discharge of the parties, the prosecution utterly failing to make out a case. No witnesses for the defence were examined, as the complainants did not prove any conspiracy, or any collusion between the parties. We understand that several suits for damages have been, or are about to be, commenced against the parties making the complaint. It is alleged that there has been a conspiracy to take money out of the WARNERS' [illegible]

KINGS COUNTY COURT OF SESSIONS—[illegible]

Mary Ann Mills, indicted for burglary in stealing chickens from the poultry-house of [illegible], was tried and convicted of petit larceny, and sentenced to 30 days' imprisonment in the Penitentiary.

James Stratton, Jacob Miller and Thomas McGovern, three boys, indicted for burglary, were permitted, on account of their youth, to plead guilty of petit larceny. The former was sent to the Penitentiary for 30 days, and his associates were sent to the House of Refuge.

Robert Barr, indicted for assault and battery, was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of $25, or in default to be imprisoned 30 days in the Penitentiary.

Henry Scholl, for a similar offence, was sent to the Penitentiary for 30 days.

Thaddeus Shelton, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, was convicted of a simple assault, and was fined $25.

Hamilton-avenue Opening.

The citizens of the Eighth Ward, Brooklyn, called a meeting yesterday, to take some measures to resist what they deem an overcharge for expenses assessed for opening Hamilton-avenue, from Fourth-street to Third-avenue, a distance of about six blocks. The counselor's bill alone amounts to nearly [illegible], and the surveyor's [illegible].

Arrests on a Charge of Highway Robbery.

A man named SMITH, living on Bergen Hill, and a man named STEWART, of New-York, were brought before Justice CHASE, in Hoboken, yesterday, charged with an attempt at highway robbery, upon which they were committed to jail. A German named [illegible], who is employed in [illegible] Refinery, was on his way home to Hoboken on Thursday night, and was met by [illegible] the plank walk across the meadows. [illegible] him, and beat him severely about the [illegible] with a stone, and it is alleged they attempted to rob him of his watch, and [illegible] pockets. He cried murder, which soon brought about fifty Irishmen, living near by, to the spot; they arrested SMITH and STEWART. [illegible] committed them to the [illegible] for the night, and they were yesterday sent to jail.

The Coroner's Inquest, in the case of [illegible] McMurray, found dead in a furniture store in Jersey City, on Thursday morning, will be concluded to-day. Yesterday Dr. WILSON made a post mortem examination of the remains, and will, to-day, give his testimony. EDWARD BARTON, who slept in the store with the deceased on the night of his death, has been arrested, but nothing has transpired which would seem to warrant his detention.

Death of an American at Maracaibo.

On the 13th March, GEORGE WASHINGTON JOHNSON, an American merchant at Maracaibo, and for many years a resident of that place, was drowned while crossing the harbor. He leaves no relatives at Maracaibo, but it is supposed he has a brother in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA NATIONAL CONVENTION.

CIRCULAR OF THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE,

Appointed at Pittsburgh, February 22, 1856.

We solicit your attention to the call which has preceded this paper. It is not only to recommend to the people the immediate selection of delegates from the several States, equal in number to three times the representation in Congress to which each [illegible] is entitled, to meet on the 17th of June at Philadelphia, to present such individuals as they may [illegible] best united to uphold the cause to which they are devoted as candidates for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency; but also to invite the members of all parties who feel it to be the dominant issue which should control the election, to meet at the same time and place, to confer with the Convention as to the best course to crown their common [illegible] with success. One of the parties which will be [illegible] at Philadelphia has taken the name of Republican, because it was given to that founded by Jefferson, to embrace all who love the Republic. There is no Democrat who does not love the Republic. There is no Whig who does not love the Republic. There is no American who does not love the Republic. And we fondly hope there is no naturalized citizen who does not love the Republic.

But it is not so important that the great movement which we desire to see successfully inaugurated [illegible] designated by any particular name, as [illegible] be strong, united, and effective. Why may not all those [illegible] who are hostile to the introduction of Slavery into free territory unite at this [illegible] of impending danger, to vote for a common [illegible], which will be nominated to assert the grand principle of repressing the extension of Slaveholding monopoly, and to vindicate the rights of [illegible] all sections of the Union who labor [illegible] hands? A [illegible] which will not agitate with a view to detract from the rights of the [illegible] of the subject within their limits, [illegible] their sovereign will; yet its influence to destroy the freedom of white laborers is a fit subject of investigation, with a view to repress the [illegible] in any Constitutional way.

The rights of the laboring class involved in this question, have been betrayed by the representatives [illegible] and South [illegible] to give the lands to slave labor which were set apart to make freeholders, and enrich the workingmen of both sections [illegible]

[illegible]

Can there be any difficulty in uniting the men of all [illegible] in the great design of delivering [illegible] from the oppressions of the slaveholders [illegible] free, healthy regions of the Far West from the blot of Slavery and [illegible] There are 347,000 slave-owners in the United [illegible]

[illegible]

The attempt will be made to persuade those who would identify themselves with this cause, that there is no necessity to make a sacrifice of minor [illegible] to make Kansas a Free State—that the [illegible] The President has put down all [illegible]—that Gen. ATCHISON and his [illegible] armed allies from the South have given up all idea of forcible interference—that they mean to acquiesce in the peaceable settlement of the question in favor of that section which has shown that it can furnish the greatest number of emigrants, and this pacific solution is to be held until after the Presidential Election. If the nullifiers of the [illegible] triumph in the election of a President nominated by them at Cincinnati, the [illegible] established by ATCHISON will be found in [illegible] introducing Slavery into the Territory and protecting it from repeal at the ballot-box, by the disfranchisement of the settlers by test-oaths [illegible] and a Constitution, framed [illegible] of the Free-State settlers [illegible], will be adopted, and the whole [illegible] will be [illegible] by the military force of the United States, [illegible] the principles and [illegible] of the Presidential proclamation. [illegible]

[illegible] thing. The class who hold [illegible] can command every thing [illegible] takes the means whereby I live." Hence, in the South the monopolists of the land and black labor of the country, although numbering but 347,000 out of a population of six millions, in virtue of their power over four millions of slaves, are absolute in all the State governments. They are the government, the legislature, the judges, justices, sheriffs—they are all in all.

The power which combined action gives to the slaveholding class over the whole South, is wielded with equal effect to obtain control over the North. The machine it moves there is on a large scale, and the instrumentality of its action visible to the least discerning eye. Every Northern aspirant for the Presidency may be looked upon as a power in the hands of the South to move the machine of the Federal Government according to its will. We instance the experiment before our eyes. Mr. PIERCE is a candidate for reëlection to the Presidency; Mr. DOUGLAS, Mr. CASS, Mr. BUCHANAN, are hopeful rivals; each have their partisans in the different sections of the North; some forty or fifty thousand office-holders and dependents on Executive favor rely upon the one or the other of these to make them secure in their posts. It is known to all these people that not one of the rivals can command a majority of the Northern vote against the other; nor, indeed, against an opponent of any other party. For either of them, the votes of the South decides the question of nomination; and then the possibility of election depends absolutely upon a united Southern support. The Southern slaveholders, therefore, have the fate of all these seekers of the Presidency, of the so-called Democratic party, entirely in their hands.

And here we find in what consists that which is now vaunted to be the Democratic Party par excellence. It is composed of the office-holders under the present Administration, headed by those chiefs who are looked to to continue them in office, through the united vote of the South, and the chance vote of some Northern State, obtained by plurality—the result of the division of their opponents, growing out of personal preferences or party dissensions. The Democratic Party, which the Administration calls its own, has no basis but in the oligarchy of the South—we might well call it the BLACK OLIGARCHY, returning to it the appellation which it is so willing to give to others, because it most appropriately belongs to itself. The leaders of this party in the North have proved themselves entirely worthy of its confidence by abandoning every principle of Democracy once their boast. They have abandoned the principles of the Fathers of the Republic, who considered it as the first attribute of the new order of things established by the Revolution that it would arrest the spread of Slavery throughout the Continent; it did lead to its immediate extinction in many of the States, and the first act under the Constitution was to exclude it from the whole territory of the Union. The Democratic leaders of the new order, at the bidding of the Southern nullifiers, have broken all the compacts and compromises designed to establish free Republics in the Territories from which Slavery was excluded. In doing this they have put under foot the representative principle, defied the will of their immediate constituents, on receiving instructions to repeal their acts have refused to obey, and in this have given the most striking example of an utter abandonment of the cardinal doctrine of the Democracy. The spread of Liberty, not Slavery, is its distinctive principle.

They have shown that the will of 347,000 slave-owners in the South is more to them than that of twenty millions of freemen in the North. The leaders of this spurious Democracy are but the satraps of Southern masters.

The fate which awaits a people afflicted with a Democracy which grows up under the Government of slave-owners, may be seen in the testimony which we give in the words of the most distinguished men of that party, which we find collated in a pamphlet by Mr. WESTON.

Mr. [illegible], of Missouri, in a paper on "Domestic Manufactures in the South and West," published in [illegible], says:

"The free population of the South may be divided into two classes—the slaveholder and the non-slaveholder. I am not aware that the relative numbers of these two classes have ever been ascertained in any of the States, but I am satisfied that the non-slaveholders far outnumber the slaveholders—perhaps by three to one. In the more southern portion of this region, the non-slaveholders possess, generally, but very small means, and the land which they possess is almost universally poor, and so sterile that a scanty subsistence is all that can be derived from its cultivation; and the more fertile soil, being in the possession of the slaveholders, must ever remain out of the power of those who have none.

"This state of things is a great drawback, and bears heavily upon and depresses the moral energies of the poorer classes. [illegible] The acquisition of a respectable position in the scale of wealth appears so difficult, that they decline the hopeless pursuit, and many of them settle down into habits of idleness, and become the almost passive subjects of all its consequences. And I lament to say that I have observed of late years that an evident deterioration is taking place in this part of the population, the younger portion of it being less educated, less industrious, and in every point of view less respectable than their ancestors."

In the January number, 1850, of DE BOW's Review, in an article on "Manufactures in South Carolina," we have an exhibition of the fears entertained of bringing together masses of non-slaveholding southern white population even for manufacturing purposes:

"So long as these poor but industrious people could see no mode of living except by a degrading operation of work with the negro upon the plantation, they were content to endure life in its most discouraging forms, satisfied that they were above the slave, though often faring worse than him. But the progress of the world is 'onward,' and though in some sections it is slow, still it is 'onward,' and the great mass of our poor white population begin to understand that they have rights, and that they, too, are entitled to some of the sympathy which falls upon the suffering. They are just learning that there is an almost infinite world of industry opening before them, by which they can elevate themselves and their families from wretchedness and ignorance, to competence and intelligence. It is this great upheaving of our masses that we have to fear, so far as our institutions are concerned."

WILLIAM GREGG, Esq., in an address before the South Carolina Institute in 1851 upon manufactures, remarks:

"From the best estimates that I have been able to make, I put down the white people who ought to work, and who do not, or who are so employed as to be wholly unproductive to the State at one hundred and twenty-five thousand. * * * By this it appears that but one-fifth of the present poor whites of our State would be necessary to operate 1,000,000 spindles. * * * The appropriation annually made by our Legislature for our School Fund, every one must be aware, so far the country is concerned, has been little better than a waste of money. * * * While we are aware that the Northern and Eastern States find no difficulty in educating their poor, we are ready to despair of success in the matter, for even penal laws against the neglect of education would fail to bring many of our country people to send their children to school. * * *

"I have long been under the impression, and every day's experience has strengthened my convictions, that the evils exist in the wholly neglected condition of this class of persons. Any man who is an observer of things could hardly pass through our country without being struck with the fact that all the capital, enterprise and intelligence is employed in directing slave labor; and the consequence is, that a large portion of our poor white people are wholly neglected, and are suffered to while away an existence in a state but one step in advance of the Indian of the forest. It is an evil of vast magnitude, and nothing but a change in public sentiment will effect its cure. These people must be brought into daily contact with the rich and intelligent—they must be stimulated to mental action, and taught to appreciate education and the comforts of civilized life; and this, we believe, may be effected only by the introduction of manufactures. * * * My experience at Graniteville has satisfied me, that unless our poor people can be brought together in villages, and some means of employment afforded them, it will be an utterly hopeless effort to undertake to educate them."

Here is the testimony of Governor HAMMOND, of South Carolina, the great leader of the nullifying party now assuming the title of Democracy. We extract it from an address before the South Carolina Institute in 1850. He is speaking of that class of people, estimated by WM. GREGG, Esq., of South Carolina, in his address before the South Carolina Institute, 1851, to be 125,000—one-half of the white population of the State:

"They obtain a precarious subsistence by occasional jobs, by hunting, by fishing, by plundering fields or folds, and too often by what is in effect far worse—trading with slaves, and seducing them to plunder for their benefit."

HON. J. H. LUMPKIN, of Georgia, speaking in 1851 upon the industrial regeneration of the South, says:

"It is objected that these manufacturing establishments will become the hot-beds of crime. * * * But I am by no means ready to concede that our poor, degraded, half-fed, half-clothed, and ignorant population—without Sabbath-schools or any other kind of instruction, mental or moral, or without any just appreciation of character—will be injured by giving them employment which will bring them under the oversight of employers who will inspire them with self-respect by taking an interest in their welfare."

We close our quotations by an extract from an address delivered a few weeks since by Hon. C. C. CLAY, Jr., of Alabama:

"I can show you, with sorrow, in the older portions of Alabama, and in my native County of Madison, the sad memorials of the artless and exhausting culture of cotton. Our small planters, after taking the cream off their lands, unable to restore them by rest, manures or otherwise, are going further west and south, in search of other virgin lands, which they may and will despoil and impoverish in like manner. Our wealthier planters, with greater means and no more skill, are buying out their poorer neighbors, extending their plantations, and adding to their slave force. The wealthy few, who are able to live on smaller profits, and to give their blasted fields some rest, are thus pushing off the many who are merely independent. [illegible] In traversing that county, one will discover numerous farm-houses, once the abode of industrious and intelligent freemen, now occupied by slaves, or tenantless, deserted and dilapidated; he will observe fields, once fertile, now unfenced, abandoned, and covered with those evil harbingers, fox-tail and broom-sedge; [illegible] and will find 'one only master grasps the whole domain,' that once furnished happy homes for a dozen white families. Indeed, a country in its infancy, where [illegible] had been felled by the axe of the pioneer, is already exhibiting the painful signs of senility and decay, apparent in Virginia and the Carolinas."

This gentleman is distinguished as an advocate for the extension of the bondage of Slavery to the Free Territories. The above extract from his eloquent speech is a picture drawn from the life, and exhibiting to the eye the [illegible] of Slavery, which the small freeholders of the North and West, who cultivate their farms with their own hands, well know how to appreciate from contrast.

We would not have adverted to the disfranchisement of the mass of the white population in South Carolina, and other Southern States, by property qualification for office and the defeat of the right of suffrage by the rotten borough system, had we not [illegible]

[illegible] what distinctions of every principle of free Government the attempt is now made to carry Kansas for Slavery. An usurpation, put up with force and arms by Gen. ATCHISON, has already established Slavery in that Territory, has guarded it with test oaths and denounced the death-penalty against all who oppose it. The President of the United States is pledged by his proclamation to maintain the usurpation, and if he is reëlected, or any other nominated by the South to succeed him, the Army of the United States will be employed to rivet Slavery on Kansas under the laws passed by Gen. ATCHISON's followers from Missouri. The North must unite to defeat this attempt by the election of a President who will maintain the rights of the people of the North in the Territory, or a cordon of black Republics will stretch from Missouri west to the Pacific. The consequence will be that no free white Republic will be permitted to arise south of the tier of Slave States. The free settlers of the North on their way to Kansas are now obliged to turn away from Missouri to reach their destination with their property and means of defending it.

What will result from the creation of a cordon of Slave States across the continent? It surrenders all South of it to Slavery; and what will be the condition of the slaveless white population which must spring up in this vast region? We see it in the fate of the poor free population of Mexico to "what complection it must come at last," whenever Slave monopoly has once given its owners the mastery over the soil. Slavery nominally is abolished throughout the Republic of Mexico, but exists, in fact, under the name of peonage. The owners of the soil feed and clothe those who work for them; they charge their laborers more for their supplies than they agree to pay them for wages, and the result is, that the laborer is constantly falling more and more in debt, and the law subjects him to his creditors until he works out his indebtedness. The effect of the system is to compel a man to sell himself and his family.

And this, taken in connection with the condition of the poor white population in the South—as shown in the passages we have taken from the address of Governor HAMMOND, of South Carolina, the Hon. C. C. CLAY, of Alabama, and other leading Southern statesmen—explains the recent article in the Richmond Enquirer, the oracle of Southern interests, which elaborately argues the right of subjecting whites, as well as blacks, to Slavery. Nay, it goes so far as to insist that this right of making white slaves is "inalienable." The article thus presses this point:

"They (those holding Mr. JEFFERSON's doctrine) begin to reason, by assuming Slavery to be morally and religiously wrong; and the South hitherto has granted their premises, and attempted to justify negro Slavery as an exception to a general rule, or, if wrong, as a matter of bargain between the North and the South. The laws of God and nature are immutable, and man cannot bargain them away. Whilst it is far more obvious that negroes should be slaves than whites—for they are only fit to labor, not to direct—yet the principle of Slavery is itself right, and does not depend on difference of complexion."

Under this doctrine it follows that here a more direct enslavement of the white race may be insisted upon than that obtained in Mexico under the contrivance of debtor vassalage. The doctrine is a positive sanction to the bondage of the white race, and asserts that "the laws of God and nature are immutable" in its support, "and man cannot bargain them away." It is practically illustrated now in the Utah Territory, where a man holds a multitude of women as slaves, calling them his wives. What is there in Mr. RITCHIE's principle to prevent BRIGHAM YOUNG from holding ninety white men as slaves under bills of sale, as well as ninety white women under pretence of the bonds of matrimony?

Mr. RITCHIE's explanation of the Southern doctrine of Slavery, together with Mr. DOUGLAS' act for the territories, which "leaves the people perfectly free to form and regulate their domestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of the United States," certainly authorizes the Mormon State to come into the Union with the Turkish system full blown, which makes slaves of all colors and wives without number. It is a sad commentary on our progress, that at the moment when the news arrives of the Sultan's Firman putting an end to the traffic in slaves in his empire—of the Czar's steps for the liberation of the serfs in Russia, and of their actual enfranchisement in the Danubian principalities—we should have negro slavery forced on one territory by a usurpation set up by the sword, and the right of the Mormons recognized in another to hold a multitude of the gentler sex in servitude, under the unnatural law of a plurality of wives?

We hold that Congress is bound by the Constitution "to make all needful rules and regulations for the Territories of the United States," and during their pupilage and preparation to become members of the Confederacy, to prevent the growth within them of systems incongruous with the pure and free, the just and safe principles inaugurated by the Revolution.

WASHINGTON, March 26, 1856. National Committee.

* The apportionment of representation, showing the rotten-borough system of South Carolina, which in effect makes the masters of slaves masters of the State, exercising the whole sovereign authority through the Legislature constituted by them, is taken from a publication in the South Carolinian, Columbia, S. C. It was republished in Washington City in 18[illegible], soon after it appeared in South Carolina. The next apportionment does not take place until 18[illegible], under the census of 18[illegible], when the disproportion will be increased. Inasmuch as the white population, in ten years preceding the last census, increased not quite 5 per cent., whereas the slaves increased nearly 18 per cent.—the slaves increasing three times as fast as the whites; and as the rate of apportionment in South Carolina is to favor the masters who wield the legislative power, and is to give representation in greater proportion to the districts in which Slavery most predominates, it is not improbable that the inequality already existing will, in 18[illegible], be increased according to the ratio of the increase of the slaves over the poor whites.

This supposition is based upon the idea that the policy which has heretofore controlled will be continued. And as the slaveholders of South Carolina, amounting only to 25,596—have the absolute legislative power in their hand, and dispose of the destinies of the 274,563 whites—of the 384,984 slaves, and the 8,960 free mulattoes and blacks at pleasure, they will not fail to make the representative apportionment such as will render their sway more secure, and put out of hope all who may dream of reform.

The following extracts from the Constitution of South Carolina, as to qualifications of all who are permitted to hold a place in the Government, proves that its soul is Slavery. It will be observed that "a settled freehold estate and ten negroes" is the starting point and the lowest degree of qualification required. This is put upon a par by the Constitution with a qualification of one hundred and fifty pounds of real estate clear of debt. From this, the scale of qualification rises with the grade of office, until it reaches fifteen hundred pounds of real estate clear of debt, according to the date of the Constitution, which makes ten negroes and a freehold equivalent to unincumbered real estate of the value of a hundred and fifty pounds, and for most part, real estate in plantations is only valuable in proportion to the slaves that work it; a man who has the qualification of fifteen hundred pounds will, on the date of the Constitution, probably own one hundred negroes.

Extract from Constitution of South Carolina, by article I, section [illegible] of the Constitution, it is provided, in reference to members of the House:

"If a resident in the election District, he shall not be eligible to a seat in the House of Representatives, unless he be legally seized and possessed, in his own right, of a settled freehold estate and ten negroes, or of a real estate of the value of a hundred and fifty pounds sterling, clear of debt. If a non-resident, he shall be legally seized and possessed of a settled freehold estate therein, of the value of five hundred pounds sterling, clear of debt."

By Article I, Section 3, it is provided, in reference to Senators:

"If a resident in the election District, he shall not be eligible unless he be legally seized and possessed, in his own right, of a settled freehold estate of the value of three hundred pounds sterling, clear of debt. If a non-resident in the election district, he shall not be eligible unless he be seized and possessed, in his own right, of a settled freehold estate, in the said district, of the value of one thousand pounds sterling, clear of debt."

By Article 2, Section 2, it is provided that no person shall be eligible as Governor, unless he "hath resided within the [illegible] ten years, and unless he be seized and possessed of a settled estate within the same, in his own right, of the value of fifteen hundred pounds sterling, clear of debt."

By Article 2, Section 3, the same qualifications are prescribed for the Lieutenant-Governor as for the Governor.

By amendments of the Constitution, ratified on the 17th [illegible], the basis of Representation in the House and Senate was fixed, and has not been changed since. The House consists of one hundred and twenty-four members, sixty-two apportioned to the several districts, according to their number of white inhabitants, and sixty-two apportioned among the several districts, according to the amount of all taxes raised by the Legislature, [illegible] paid in each, deducting therefrom all taxes paid on account of property held in any other district, and adding thereto all taxes elsewhere paid on account of property held in such district. [illegible] apportionment was made in 18[illegible] and a reapportionment on the same principle is made every ten years.

In reference to the Senate, it is provided as follows: "The Senate shall be composed of one member from each election district, as now established for the election of members of the House of Representatives, except the district formed of the Parishes of St. Philip and St. Michael, to which shall be allowed two Senators as heretofore."

This makes the Senate a representation neither of numbers nor property, but of territories.

News from Texas.

THE INDIAN [illegible]—FOUL MURDER [illegible] FORT CLARK.

[illegible]

The [illegible] of the 29th ult., has the following: [illegible] Maj. NEIGHBORS, paid us a visit [illegible] from him that the Indians on the Reserve are making important and valuable improvements. [illegible] houses have been erected, and the Indians are putting in about eight [illegible] acres of corn. If they have a fair crop, there will be an abundance made to supply the wants of the Reserve. For the first time, the Indians of Texas are taking hold of farming with a determination to depend entirely upon it for their support. They are putting their hands to the plow [illegible], and though it requires two to perform the operation—one to lead the horses and the other to plow—still they have made a beginning and will soon become expert at it.

Even the Southern Comanches have taken hold of the hoe and are wielding it patiently. The excellent moral effects of this move are witnessed in the absence of theft and pillage on the part of the Indians. The settlers make no complaints of the loss of horses or cattle, and some time ago, when SKILLMAN was killed by the Northern Comanches, the Indians on the Reserve, to the number of a hundred, immediately volunteered their services to pursue the murderers and arrest them. Some dozen were accepted, and they overtook the hostile Indians. A battle ensued, and the result was that they utterly routed the enemy and brought back eight scalps.

There are some twelve or fifteen hundred Indians on the Reserve, and many tribes in other States would willingly join them if they had the privilege, but it is not our policy to increase the Indians of Texas. We do much in affording those with us a home, and giving them support. Major NEIGHBORS deserves great credit for his labors, and we should like to see his services retained. We think it important to the security of the State."

The San Antonio Texan, of the 27th ult., gives the particulars of a foul murder committed at Fort Clark by Mexicans. Mr. SKINNER, the name of the murdered man, and a friend had left San Antonio in company with some Mexican teamsters, who were hauling their goods. When they encamped for the night, and SKINNER and his friend fell asleep, the Mexicans crept upon them and murdered them, breaking their skulls with axes. The Mexicans fled, and had not been arrested. Mr. SKINNER was a highly respected citizen, and was connected in business with a gentleman in San Antonio.

Commerce in Coolies.

To the Editor of the New-York Daily Times:

In regard to the Cooly trade, which is at the present moment attracting some attention, permit me to say a few words.

That there have been abuses in the transportation of Coolies or laborers from China to other parts of the world none will deny, but that the business is not, as carried on by parties of respectability, as legitimate as that of bringing emigrants from Ireland, &c., we have yet to learn.

China has not employment for her vast population. The civil war has thrown hundreds of thousands of the laboring class out of employ, and the numbers that have positively starved or been driven into rebellion only to be caught and beheaded, is truly astonishing. It is estimated that 80,000 were beheaded in Canton alone.

Since the breaking up of the slave-trade, Peru, Brazils, Cuba, Sandwich Islands, &c., are deficient of laborers, and must seek supplies where there is a surplus. To accomplish this, they contract to hire, as you or I would one or more men in our garden or on our farm, for a period of years, (paying a bonus, which in reality is their passage-money,) on regular monthly wages. And such contracts have been made with the Coolies. Regular articles of agreement are made in writing with every man, carefully read to him and signed, approved of by the Consul, &c., the man supplied with a liberal outfit of clothes, provisioned for the voyage as few passenger ships are that cross the Atlantic; his interest, peculiar religious views, &c., carefully guarded in the contract, and employment secured to him for a limited term of years, for which he shall receive regular monthly wages, besides clothing, and provisions, and the laborer at liberty to annul the contract, if on trial, he desires to do so. Is there aught in this that is inhuman, or unchristian? Is it not, in the providence of God, one of the means by which Slavery may be annihilated, and free labor introduced over the world? May it not be one of the grand means God is using for opening China to foreigners? Dr. PARKER, when in this country, a few months since, remarked "these men do not come back Chinamen, but Republicans!" Dr. PARKER was understood to say that if parties of reputation and means would take the business in hand, it would be a great blessing to China. There have doubtless been instances of poor, old vessels, inefficient and cruel commanders, badly supplied with water, provisions, &c., embarking in this trade, and giving it a bad reputation, and to such abuses the indignation of the public may be properly directed. Some of our leading houses have called Dr. PARKER's special attention to this, in the proposed revision of the China Treaty in July next, and there is no doubt that the transportation of Coolies will be put on a footing alike satisfactory to our own people and to China.

In a recent Blackwood we read:

A merchant settled at Amoy, writes: "We have just dispatched a vessel with 410 laborers for Honolulu, S. I. They were all fine, able bodied men. The only sorrowful parties were those whom we were compelled to reject from disease or deformity. These we placed a distinguishing mark upon, but this they removed, and presented themselves for examination three or four times. We were obliged to send them from alongside by hundreds, and the last day the rush was so great we thought they would almost have taken the vessel from us. This demand for labor is the most providential thing for this Province, the poverty and destitution of which is almost incredible."

Does this look like servitude? Letters from parties in countries where the Coolies have arrived speak of them as being most happy in their new homes and fields of labor. An American ship-owner informs us that he has never carried a man on charter, or otherwise, except by his own free consent.

One point more: in every port from which Coolies are taken there are American and British Consuls. Every ship-master is required to deposit his ship's papers with the Consul of his country, and then on clearing to report himself to said Consul and receive his papers. Would our American Consuls have winked at this trade had it the slightest approximation to Slavery? Where are all the British and American ships-of-war on the East India station if this is modern or new fashioned Slave-trade? They, too, must be blinded or else they would long ago have seized these Cooly-carrying ships and sent them into port for trial and condemnation.

Annexed is an exact copy of the contract usually made with the Coolies going where there is no guano. In the Peru contracts it is expressly stipulated that they shall not be called upon to work in guano or at the Chincha Islands.

The writer of this has no other motive than to make public the foregoing information which he has gathered in the intervals of his professional labors, and thus to correct some who have written very warmly upon a subject about which they have been lamentably ignorant.

OXFORD-STREET, BROOKLYN.

FORM OF A CONTRACT WITH A CHINESE COOLY.

I, A. B., a native of the Empire of China, hereby enter into an agreement with C. D., acting on behalf the Government of ——, on the following conditions:

The said A. B. agrees to embark on board the ship ——, whereof F. S. is master, and proceed to ——. On arrival there he undertakes to obey the orders of Government and of its duly constituted agents, and to enter in agreement with such employer as the said government or agent shall select, to do service with him for five years from the date of his arrival in said town, as cultivator or agriculturist, or as laborer or servant; during which time the said A. B. is to till the soil, clear ground, plow, manufacture sugar, tea, or coffee, and all such like work, completing each day four and a half Chinese hours, or nine hours of steady continuous work and dutifully serving and obeying his employer, neither stealthily working for his own benefit nor absenting himself without leave.

During such term of five years, he agrees moreover, to allow $1 per month to be deducted from his wages until the sum of $——, received in advance, shall have been paid off.

In consideration hereof the said A. B. distinctly understands that the said C. D. will find him a passage to ——, provide him food and necessaries during the voyage; after arrival find him employment as above described at the rate of $—— per month, furnish him annually with two suits of clothes, viz.: two cotton jackets, two pair of cotton trowsers, one bamboo hat, one felt hat, one blanket, find him in medicines and medical attendance should he fall sick, and furnish him with an ample supply of food, viz.: 10 pounds of rice, 3½ pounds of beef, pork or salt fish, 1 pound of sugar, and 3 ounces of tea per week of seven days.

It is, however, agreed that, in case of sickness exceeding fifteen days, the said salary is to be suspended until the said A. B. returns to work—he in the meantime receiving food, medicine, and medical attendance.

Should the said A. B. be unwilling to receive the above-mentioned allowance of food, &c., an additional monthly payment of —— dollars can be given him instead, and with it a piece of land to cultivate for his benefit. Provided, always, the said A. B. shall not be called to work upon Sundays, and the first three days of the Chinese New Year, unless in case of necessity, when he shall be entitled to receive extra pay, at the rate of —— cents per day.

Provided, also, that should the said A. B., one year, or at any subsequent time after his arrival, repent this agreement, and be unwilling to carry it out, he may do so on giving one month's notice of his intention, and on repayment of such parts of the cost of conveying him to ——, as shall be proportioned to the time of service not rendered.

It is understood that work and salary shall commence to run from and after twenty-four hours after landing in the port of ——.

Agreement entered into in English, Portuguese and Chinese by both parties hereto, on the — day of ——, in the year of ——.

Wm. F. Morrill, ticket-master and dépôt-master at Augusta, Me., was arrested on charge of robbing the mail of a package containing four land warrants valued at about $[illegible]. He waived an examination and was bound over.

DRY GOODS.

FAILURE OF COLUMBIAN HALL.
NO. 281 GRAND-ST.
BANKRUPTCY OF S. & M. E. TOWLE & CO.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DRY GOODS MERCHANTS.
LIABILITIES OVER TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS!
IMMEDIATE SALE OF STOCK
FOR BENEFIT OF CREDITORS.

Whereas, by a certain bill of sale bearing date the 31st day of March last, executed by the above-named Insolvents to Messrs. Bliss, Briggs & Douglas, Importers, Jobbers and general Dry Goods Merchants, of Nos. 5 and 7 Dey-st., in this City, (the proceeds to be applied to the liquidation of certain claims on the part of certain specified creditors,) their entire stock in trade, fixtures, lease of premises, &c., &c., have been by them voluntarily relinquished, and complete disposal made thereof.

And whereas, by a certain other bill of sale, bearing date the 9th of April, instant, the last-named parties have also relinquished and given up their claim to said stock of dry goods, &c., in favor of the subscriber.

Now, therefore, be it known to all whom it may concern, that he will offer at private sale, to the public generally, commencing on

MONDAY, April 14,

In lots suitable to the wants of private consumers, this valuable collection of Foreign and Domestic Merchandise,

TO CONTINUE FOR ONE MONTH ONLY.

The balance (if any remaining) to be then sold in one lot, either at public auction or by private sale, as he may then see fit.

The long and well-known high standing as merchants of the Messrs. TOWLE & CO., (now unfortunately reduced to insolvency, chiefly in consequence of the late disastrous and overwhelming emergency of the times) and the justly eminent celebrity of Columbian Hall as a popular and at all times favorite render more than a passing comment on the stock of goods to be found there entirely superfluous. Suffice it to say, that for variety, richness and sterling goodness of quality, it is second to none in the City; a brief enumeration, therefore, is all that is deemed necessary.

DRY GOODS MART,

IT CONSISTS OF

A magnificent variety of plain and fancy Silks, Bareges, De laines, Alpacas, French Merinos, Plaids, Muslins, Lawns, Ginghams and other Dress Goods. Family Linens, in Sheetings, Damasks, Napkins, Towels and Towelings, Cloths and Cassimeres, Blankets and Flannels, Long Cloths and Shirtings, Hosiery and Gloves, Under-Garments, Muslin and Lace Curtains, Shawls and Mantillas, Quilts and Counterpanes, Table Covers and Cloths, Laces and Embroideries, Jaconet, Cambric, Nainsook and Book Muslins, Brilliantes Skirts, &c.

In order to facilitate the disposal of this property within the specified time, and for the convenience of customers resident in distant localities, Express wagons will be dispatched from Columbian Hall at 9 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., precisely, so that ladies in Williamsburg, Brooklyn, Jersey City, and also the upper part of New-York, can rely upon having their purchases promptly delivered.

N. B.—Terms of sale—Strictly cash on or before delivery.

Hours of business from 9 till 5 o'clock. Wholesale dealers previous to 9 o'clock A. M.

FREEDOM FOR KANSAS.—OFFICE OF THE N. Y. STATE KANSAS COMMITTEE, No. 442 Broadway, ALBANY, April 5, 1856.—The New-York State Kansas Committee have opened their office, No. 442 Broadway, Albany, for the purpose of entering the names of all persons intending to emigrate to the Territory of Kansas, with the design of becoming actual and bona fide residents thereof. All such persons are requested to send their names to the Secretary immediately, stating their occupation, and whether married or single, and also post-office address. The Committee will require satisfactory evidence of the bona fide intention of applicants to become actual and permanent residents of Kansas. The Committee have resolved to provide first-class tickets from Albany, Utica, Syracuse, Rochester or Buffalo, to Kansas City, including board from St. Louis, to the members of the first Colony, not exceeding the number of 50 persons, at the price of $30 per ticket. This sum should be sent to the Secretary without delay, to insure a ticket in this Company. Children between the ages of four and twelve years, half price.

The Committee have decided to send the first Colony from Albany via N. Y. Central Railroad, on the morning of the 16th day of April, inst., under the direction of the New-England Emigrant Aid Company, expecting that a party from Boston will join the Albany Company on the 15th inst. It is desirable, but not positively required, that persons residing out of the city should be in Albany on the 15th inst. to start with the company at this place. All letters sent to the Committee should be addressed to the Secretary.

Subscriptions from the friends of Freedom of Kansas are solicited, and should be sent to C. P. WILLIAMS, Esq., Treasurer, Albany.

Circulars will be sent gratis to persons desiring information on the subject of emigration to Kansas.

The Liberty Party.

That division of the Abolition Party who reflect the views of Mr. GERRIT SMITH have issued a call for a National Nominating Convention at Syracuse in the latter part of May. As far as we can gather from an impartial scrutiny of the document, the main object of the Convention is to promote the defeat of the Republican movement. To the denunciation of that organization, to the discredit of its motives, to the reprobation of its aims, is the whole paper devoted, while Slavery escapes with very gingerly and considerate treatment indeed. It is quite clear that, in the approaching canvass, as always heretofore, radical Abolitionism will be found fighting on the side of Slavery. To that side, with a perversity that might be regarded as deliberately studied for untold bad objects concealed in the breasts of its leaders, has it uniformly lent its whole strength, and so contributed to all those aggressive measures which have destroyed utterly the equilibrium of the States in favor of the South and Southern institutions.

Contrasted with the course pursued by the [illegible] extremists, we must say the action of the so-called "Liberty Party" cuts but a sorry figure. GARRISON and his friends decline to participate in political movements, or to exercise the elective privilege. They are logical and consistent. Thoroughly aware that every vote cast for any Presidential candidate, not accepted by the great body of the North, is as mischievous as a direct vote for a Southern nominee, they refrain wholly from the ballot-box, and so decline to retard or disable the Northern movement, while they as firmly decline to accelerate it. GERRIT SMITH, and his followers, in setting up what may with propriety be termed private candidates, cast their votes indirectly but no less serviceably for the Polks, and Pierces of Pro-Slavery choice, and bar from the Chief Magistracy the only men in whom there lies a hope of restoring the Government to its early purpose. Sense, and conscience, and right, agree in condemning this direct contribution of well-intended forces to the worst of ends, and throw the weight of a fearful responsibility on the leaders who counsel it.

The apologies offered for a policy thus misdirected are not even plausible. They are such as would be entertained nowhere else in human affairs. In the charge, upon which this call rings all possible changes, consists the whole marrow of it—that the Republicans are merely an Anti-Slavery organization, whose march is unquestionably in the same direction with radical Abolition, but stopping short of its extreme results. Admitting the impeachment, it would be easy to convict Abolitionism of the flattest absurdity, in preferring to ally itself with Slavery against such half-way help, to availing itself of all attainable energies against that monstrous evil. They might be pointed to that law of the understanding, in accordance with which no two minds in the universe hold precisely the same system of belief, and asked whether such discrepancy should prevent union for just aims among individuals of proximate convictions. They might be told that all reform and development, in nature or society, are gradual, and progressive; that to the advancement of every great world-change all manner of influences, good and evil, have contributed and have been accepted by the Apostles of reformation. They might be reverently directed to the Providence of God itself, which bends all energies, benignant and malign alike, to the promotion of beneficial ends; and rejects no agency as unworthy. The soldier would ridicule the mad [illegible] who, in besieging a town, should decline the assistance of a vast army, because it offered to carry the fortifications one by one, and by prudent approaches, instead of proceeding to the end directly by storm. He would add a still stronger epithet, if the madmen should join the garrison in a war of extermination upon the friendly force. The traveler would pity the wayfarer, as crazed, who, fainting by the way, should refuse an offered ride in the direction of his journey, because the vehicle proposed to stop short of his distant home. He would regard him with horror, if he should further attempt to assassinate the proposed helper. The sailor would take refuge in affright and superstition, if in mid-ocean he encountered a drifting raft, laden with passengers, who should decline relief, unless the passing vessel would covenant to bear them to some remote inland town, rather than to the nearest sea-port. If they proceeded to scuttle the ship, upon non-compliance with such [illegible], they might fairly be set down as evil spirits, rather than men. In just such category, guilty of just such absurdity, and proof [illegible] such reasoning, are the adherents of Messrs. SMITH and TAPPAN. They are, by old habit, enlisted in behalf of Slavery; it is natural, easy, and pleasant, to assail the [illegible] movements of less ardent soldiers in the same cause; it lends a stimulating zest to the [illegible] of an election, to know that the Pro-Slavery incumbent was chosen through their [illegible] perversity; and that the supremacy of the policy which gave birth to the Kansas wrong is thus insured for four years longer. With these inducements to action, the Convention at Syracuse will act. They will act, with the assured conviction that the fruit, as far as they can promote its maturity, must be Pro-Slavery triumph; and will, nevertheless, we doubt not, issue an address and resolutions overflowing with Anti-Slavery zeal. Let it suffice for the more direct and honest purpose of Republicanism, that in this call, the great Northern movement is admitted to be opposed to Slavery; and that consequently, any side movement that contends with it, or abates its strength, must be practically identified with the objectionable institution. Precisely such is the attitude of the mis-named "Liberty Party."

Mrs. Candour Turned Up Again.

A soft answer turneth away wrath, but we think the answer of the Washington Union to our well-intended commentary upon the political career of Mr. BUCHANAN will serve only to inflame the anger of his friends. If it was the design of the Government journal to present to the Democracy in the strongest light and the most impressive manner those passages in Mr. B.'s life which the party would most willingly forget, and which can be most effectively used, first to prevent his nomination, and next to defeat his election, it could not have adopted a style of advocacy more suited to its object than is resorted to in an article professedly in reply to our remarks on Mr. BUCHANAN on Monday last. Damning with faint praise is a sort of detraction not less understood in the political than the literary world, and the Washington print appears to be an adept in the art.

The pretended defence of the Union is a real attack upon Mr. BUCHANAN. It takes care to select and place before its readers, in bold relief, those points which the Democratic competitors of that gentleman rely upon to prove his want of availibility, or his unfitness as a candidate at this time; and then, as if with the express purpose of showing the Democracy that the objections thus indicated are insurmountable, it interposes special pleas of defence so feeble, so frivolous, and so inapplicable as to convey the conviction of the writer that Mr. BUCHANAN is, after all, not the man of the times, and, in short, not to be thought of as the choice of the Cincinnati Convention. It is true that the salient points in the Pennsylvanian's career, as presented by the TIMES, are described as slanders by an Abolition print, and so on, but this phraseology is a trick the Union has, and may be regarded as a trade-mark stamped upon its production to assure the Democracy of its genuineness.

This mode of defence is the same as that pursued by Mrs. Candour in vindication of the unquestioned chastity of an absent friend. I assure you, Sir Benjamin Backbite, said my lady, and Mr. Crabtree and Lady Sneerwell, I beg you to believe me, that Miss Letitia Piper was not last evening delivered of twins. Let us, in like manner, assure all Democrats in pursuit of a candidate that though it is advertised in the Washington Union that Mr. BUCHANAN was a Federalist 35 years ago, but is, nevertheless, now a good-enough candidate for the Party; that he had a controversy with Mr. CLAY, in which he failed to sustain Gen JACKSON at a critical moment; that it is currently reported that he proposed opening his veins in order to deplete them of any latent Democratic virus; and that his position on the repeal of the Missouri Compromise is equivocal—he is not half so bad as these smothered hints of a secret enemy make him out to be.

On the contrary, he is to us, perhaps, the least unacceptable of any of the Democrats yet offered as presidential candidates. We are perfectly satisfied that from its inception to its consummation, Mr. BUCHANAN was opposed to the Nebraska bill, and that he now regards with indignation the unprincipled conduct of the administration toward the Free-State settlers of Kansas Territory. This is to us a point in his favor, and though we cannot overlook the weakness which has induced his tardy acquiescence in the outrage, we could hope that in case of his election the incendiaries who have perverted the mind of Gen. PIERCE would be scourged from the White House and its purlieus, and, perhaps, it would not be unreasonable to expect that he would use the influence of his position to calm the agitation so wantonly provoked by his predecessor. We also desire the nomination of Mr. BUCHANAN from a more selfish consideration. We believe he would not be cordially supported by that numerous wing of his Party which is composed of covenant-breakers, repudiators of contracts and fillibusters, and that we should more easily and certainly defeat him, and with him the party organization which sustains him, than we could any other person likely to be selected as its candidate. And if, despite this defection, Mr. BUCHANAN should be elected, we are not without hope that he would call about him moderate and conservative men of all sections and opinions, and place the Democratic Party in irreconcilable hostility to the fanatical agitators who, in the interest of Slavery, are plotting against the peace of society, and, as an alternative to their schemes, against the permanency of the Union.

The National Academy of Design—Thirty-first Annual Exhibition.

THIRD ARTICLE.

We are glad to see so few "Compositions" in the present Exhibition. Mr. DURAND's large picture—"The Symbol;" Mr. KENSETT's "Franconia Mountains;" Mr. CHURCH's "A Tropical Morning;" Mr. CROPSEY's "Chenango River Scenery;" these are the most prominent examples, and of these, only Mr. DURAND's is avowedly a composition. But the others are a little less objectionable. It is true they have names, and profess to be transcripts of actual scenery, but it is easy to see that Nature has merely furnished a hint, and that the artist, aided by his [illegible] sketches, has proceeded in his studies away from the actual influences of the scene, to cover his canvas with the old conventions, and to smother truth and beauty under the dreary formulas of a dead past.

In no other Art, Fine or Mechanic, [illegible] so little progress as in Painting. The architect, the sculptor, the poet, the lawyer, the physician, the engineer, the shipbuilder; no one of these has been standing for the last three hundred years. Every one has fitted himself to his time. The pioneer who built the first log-house on a Western prairie was the prophet of a peculiar American architecture. BROWN's "Striking Indian," and WARD's "Daniel Boone," though Greek in spirit, could have been produced in no other country than ours, and in no other century than the Nineteenth. Compare the "Law" of to-day with the Law of yesterday. See the English judge in wig and ermine, and the American judge in broadcloth. Think of TENNYSON and EMERSON, the greatest poets of England and America, and mark how peculiarly they are the product of this age. The physician of this era, sees the old cliques and dogmas rapidly disintegrating and giving place to new ideas. Intrench himself as he may, these meddlesome intruders, homœopathy, hydropathy, motopathy, and the old and young Drs. TOWNSEND, will climb into his lecture-room by the windows, and coax away half his patients. Could Greece or Rome, or France or England, fifty years ago, have built the Menai Bridge or launched the Persia?

Meanwhile the painter lives in the nineteenth century as if it were the seventeenth or eighteenth. Scarcely has a step been taken since the great men died. If we were to descend into the vault where the sacred bones of the beloved RAPHAEL lie, we should almost look to see the pale form of the genius of art stretched, a dead mourner, over the coffin of her noblest child. The painter sits in his studio, not using the Past as a guide, but serving it as a master. Sir GEORGE BEAUMONT, an English lord who lived a century ago, and who set himself up as a critic and rival of CLAUDE, when he saw an artist making a picture after the established rules, asked, "Where are you going to put your brown tree?" If he were alive to-day he would ask the same question. He would find the same conventionalities, the same tricks, the same jargon about "breadth" and "tone" and "handling," in which he and his mates delighted, delighting us in America. He would find scarcely anything on these Academy walls which should say to him—here are the works of new men in a new land.

Here, for example, are these compositions. We have indicated several, not because they are bad pictures painted by poor artists—on the contrary, they are pictures with abundant merit of a certain kind, and painted by clever men—but because they are all prominent pictures; they are pictures that people study and talk about. The cry is, "Let us see what DURAND, and CROPSEY, and CHURCH, and KENSETT have done this year!" And here they have it. Here they have specious works, painted on false principles, which their painters do not see to be specious. They are bad wholes full of good bits. They are made on the old, bad pattern, and, judged by the old standard, will pass. They do not help us. They do not belong to America and the nineteenth century, but to a past age, and to other lands and histories on which we have turned our backs. Why should we have "Compositions?" Who wants them? It is an imaginary demand which these artists seek to supply. "A Composition" is an attempt to "prettify" nature, to reduce to rule and balance what we do not find so reduced. It is an impertinence, and a very useless one, and the first man who makes a broad mark in America as a great landscape painter, will touch the popular heart, among other proofs of loyalty to truth, by never painting a "Composition."

And how is it possible for any man, unless he is supernaturally gifted, to paint a landscape, fitly, in his studio? We believe it is utterly impossible. The constancy with which this has come to be done would explain, logically enough, without making it necessary to see the pictures—the result which is mourned over as "The Decline of Painting." We know not what artists say about it, nor how they defend it, but we feel assured that the practice is utterly indefensible by any arguments of right reason. What! Paint a mountain, a tree, a cloud, in an attic room, lighted by a skylight? How absurdly it sounds, stated in this bald manner. Yet we mean to be just; we have no desire to indulge in ridicule for the sake of ridicule. The great landscape painter before alluded to, will further make his loyalty to Nature appear by painting every picture out of doors in the actual presence of the scene he is portraying.

Our readers will easily see how all this apparent slavishness and copyism is consistent with the largest and most imaginative treatment. It is useless for us to insist on this. It is plain that the great painter must be a great poet, and no necessities can cramp or thwart the poet. He plays with rules and difficulties, and rises above these dull material weights, as the violets pierce and crown the clod. But the power of the greatest poets has come from their simple trust in Nature. They have been willing to sit at her feet, and let the pure ray of her truth pass, uncolored and unbroken, to the eyes of men, through the crystal of their speech.

Hiawatha.

Miss KIMBERLY—a lady who has considerable reputation in the East, and is favorably known here as a reader of SHAKESPEARE—gave her third reading of LONGFELLOW's trochaic poem of "Hiawatha" last evening at Hope Chapel. Miss KIMBERLY possesses many natural qualifications for fixing the attention of an audience, and interesting them in the subject of her discourse. She has an attractive person and a fine voice; and so far, is the best reader of the poem we have yet had in New-York. But we are doubtful if a woman ever can read "Hiawatha" with the dignity and impressiveness requisite for its Indian character.

Miss KIMBERLY educes a kind of dramatic narrative out of "Hiawatha," and succeeds in preserving the thread of the story, but she does so at the expense of the poem. Stanzas—even lines, and parts of lines—are strangled remorselessness. The cuts are perfectly horrifying. A man with the book in his hand experiences the sensations of an author who has perforce to skip from cut to cut. There is undoubtedly a necessity for abbreviating the poem in order to bring it within the limits of an evening's entertainment, but we doubt the policy of mutilating the sections that are reserved. Where only one or two lines are wanted to complete a stanza they should be given. More study of the poem will add additional charms to Miss KIMBERLY's future readings. She is sadly imperfect at present, and disregards that nice choice of words for which LONGFELLOW is remarkable. Common-place adjectives too often marred the poetic effect of passages in themselves delicately colored with choice epithets. Sometimes even worse lapses of memory were noticeable, as, for instance, in the words of Mudjekeewis, who, in reply to Hiawatha's query, "Is there nothing that can harm you?" should say—

"——There is nothing,
Nothing but the black rock yonder,
Nothing but the fatal Wawbeek."

but according to Miss KIMBERLY, said:

"Nothing but the bull rush yonder."

Thus confounding the two replies of Mudjekeewis and Hiawatha.

With more study, and more of the calm dignity of the Indian, Miss KIMBERLY will read "Hiawatha" in an enjoyable way, and thus afford to our citizens a delightful and highly elevated entertainment.

BROADWAY THEATRE.—In another column will be found a communication from Mr. LOUIS KELLER on the subject of the Tableaux Vivants. It is to the point and worth reading.

An Alligator among the Newspapers.

STEPHEN H. BRANCH, Esq., former editor of the Elephant, and late puncher-up of MATSELL, is about to start a daily paper, to be called the Alligator. We saw his prospectus when it had been one hour and a half in circulation, and subscribed to it were [illegible] names of our first citizens—i. e. to say, towards the capital he had collected, $[illegible] each. Mr. BRANCH's powerful judgment, and occasional "fine [illegible]," will insure his Alligator very distinguished consideration. Mr. BRANCH will issue but six Alligators a week—Sundays being excepted.

NEW-YORK CITY.

Hydropathic Medical School Commencement.

If a man is to be drowned pure Croton is perhaps as harmless as any other liquid; and besides, its cheapness and the ease with which a sufficient quantity to destroy life can be obtained are additional and should be effective recommendations in its favor. But, we submit that, when Æsculapius is to be put out of the way, if a liquid must be used, something more potent than water is due to his rank, and, we fear, necessary to the accomplishment of the work. Nevertheless there are a number of respectable and intelligent gentlemen and ladies congregated in a building in Laight-street, who have been working night and day, for many months, in the hope that they may in the end succeed in getting him under such a pressure of water as will squeeze all the breath out of him. They believe they will succeed. In fact they are so sure of success that the most enthusiastic are even now considering the most desirable size and form of a water butt to be erected in triumph in his most gorgeous temple. Every now and then they gather with their disciples and congratulate themselves on the progress they have made, and to increase the number of the workers. They are called "Hydropaths," and they held one of their meetings Thursday night. It was a very interesting meeting, and a great many sensible things were said. There was one gentleman who had taken a frightful quantity of mercury through his father, who very naturally denounced that particular medicine. It had nearly killed him. The same quantity taken at first hands would doubtless have killed him outright, as he is not a robust man. But he is tough—holds on to life with a tenacity only equaled by that with which the King of Terrors is said to cling to a deceased gentleman of color. He has been under hydropathic treatment for ten years, and he is still, although in a precarious condition, in the land of the living. There were several others who spoke with almost equal effect against the Old School of Medicine, and in favor of Hydropathy. The Principal stated, during the evening, that the Professors had prepared sixteen diplomas for pupils, whose modesty had not permitted them to ask for them. By way of comfort, and as a hint to where they had better go as soon as possible after having received them, he said that although a diploma from that school was not recognized as an authority in the well-settled portions of the country, it was as good as any other in the Far West. A hydropathic practitioner from the neighboring city of Brooklyn was called on to tell his experience. He said, in effect, that he was doing very well, considering that he had a very large house on his hands and very few patients in it, and that, owing to the "dry spell," there was a great scarcity of water. During a drouth, it is with the utmost difficulty that sufficient water can be obtained in Brooklyn to souse a good fat patient all over. After the experience of the Brooklyn doctor, there came other speeches, and after those, an adjournment.

Dr. Lydia Sayer on Heavy Petticoats.

Dr. LYDIA SAYER is a fine, dashing girl, fresh as her own Orange County butter, and beautiful as the scenery of her own Orange County home. But fresh and fair though she be, she is not a speaking ornament to a lecture-room. With a less masculine ambition, she might adorn the kitchen, the parlor, and the bedside, and enhance the beauty and respectability of any audience of which she formed a part; but with aspirations which are not comely in woman, and a boldness incompatible with refined sensibility, she neutralizes the good she is formed for doing, by aiming at what she is not fitted to accomplish. A construction of sentences in accordance with the rules laid down by LINDLEY MURRAY, and correct pronunciation, are absolutely necessary to the success of any lecturer who presumes to improve and refine the tastes of the public. LYDIA, with all her beauty, is lamentably deficient in both. Her ambition o'erleaps LINDLEY, and her affectionate nature centres with all its power upon the last syllable of all the words she uses. There are many words worthy of esteem, but to place one's affections upon a monosyllable, and that always the last, is unworthy of a female. LYDIA might easily find an object more deserving of her highest regard. When speaking she seems possessed of the idea that, however much sentences may vary in length, they must all be finished within the same number of seconds. Her endeavor to carry this strange notion into effect offends the ear of her audience, and forces her to a flippancy which attains its object upon washing days only. Her objections to "fashion morally and physiologically considered" are precisely the same as have obtained in all ages, and as are preached by the devotees of fashion to-day. Everybody knows and believes that heavy-quilted petticoats, fastened as they usually are, and corsets, laced as is the custom, are injurious. If LYDIA would have a change for the better, let her no longer waste her time in the preparation of maudlin lectures, but retire from the forum to the back parlor, and there, with scissors and needle, fashion garments which shall be becoming, convenient and healthful. Then let her exhibit them in a conspicuous place, and use all her energies in dispensing them. If she succeeds in making such garments attractive, she will have accomplished more that is good than all the strong-minded women who exhibit themselves where men only should stand, will ever attain.

Alleged Mutiny at Sea and Charge of Murder.

Nine arrests were made Wednesday afternoon from the packet ship Underwriter, Captain SHIPLEY, just arrived from Liverpool, of parties charged with mutiny at sea. Their names are Silas B. Phillips, Joseph Smith, James Reiley, John Robinson, Joseph Gilman, Charles Lester, Michael Mahon, Wm. Welch, and Huron Fisher. They were all taken before U. S. Commissioner MORTON, and committed for examination. They had been kept in irons on board the Underwriter several days. A more miserable, filthy, and revolting set of white men was never presented. They claim to have been very severely used by the officers of the Underwriter, and charge that one of the crew was so severely injured by the third mate, that he died during the passage from Liverpool. One shows several teeth knocked out—another a severely flattened nose, and a third a badly bruised head, which they aver were caused by blows received without just provocation at the hands of the officers of the Underwriter.

Yesterday upon counter affidavit of the above-named parties, WM. WELSH, the first mate of the Underwriter, and THOMAS KERR, the third mate, were arrested, the former upon charge of cruel treatment of several of the crew of the Underwriter, and the latter of murder, in having caused the death of one JOHNSON, of the crew, by a flogging administered at his hands. The parties charged with mutiny, together with the first and third mates, are in Eldridge-street Jail. The case will be examined into in a day or two before Commissioner MORTON.

Rental of Pews in Dr. Adams' Church.

The rental of pews not previously sold, in Dr. ADAMS' Church, corner of Madison-avenue and Twenty-fourth-street, was conducted last evening by public auction. The terms of rental are 15 per cent. on the rated value of the pews, payable semi-yearly in advance. A large number of the pews in the galleries, and all those on the ground floor, were rented, with the exception of about thirty; the premiums ranged from par to $81. The sum realized for the sale of pews, since the last sale, amounts to some $35,000.

New-York Horticultural Society.

A quarterly exhibition got up under the auspices of this Society, is now being held in one of the rooms of the Clinton Hall, Astor-place. The specimens are excellent, though few—probably not more than fifty, and consist mainly of geraniums, azaleas, cacti, &c., all greenhouse plants. The exhibition is free.

☞ A meeting of the friends of THOMAS DOUGHTY, landscape painter, now suffering with a disease which it is feared will prove incurable, was held at the Astor House on Wednesday evening. On motion of Rev. Dr. MAGOON, seconded by WALTER M. ORDIS, WM. C. BRYANT was called to the Chair, HENRY PETERS GRAY chosen Secretary, and D. HUNTINGTON Treasurer. It was thought not advisable to hold an exhibition at present of Mr. DOUGHTY's works, but to start a subscription for his benefit.

☞ The steamship Adriatic was yesterday taken into the Balance Dock, between Catharine and Market-streets. A great number of spectators were present to witness the operation, which was successful in every respect.

☞ PATRICK KIERNAN, for many years Captain of the "Irish Dragoons," died on Monday, at his residence in Ninth-avenue, after a painful and protracted illness.

Lying-in Asylum.

The thirty-third anniversary of this Institution [illegible] at No. [illegible] [illegible]-street was celebrated Thursday.

The exercises were opened by Rev. Dr. [illegible], who read a portion of Scripture, and made some introductory remarks.

Dr. COOK read the Report of the Board of Managers. This document set forth that, during the past year, 167 respectable women had been admitted into the Asylum, whose marriages had been proven, either by certificate or satisfactory evidence; 89, in whose health and respectability confidence could be placed, have been provided with places as wet nurses.

The general health of the Institution has been unexceptionable. The out-door department continues to be of essential benefit to those who, although able to remain at home, are not competent to pay for medical aid. Of this description of patients 9[illegible] have been attended and relieved.

The Physician's report gives the following statistics:

Mothers left, or remaining in the Home in good health, 151; do. do. do. in feeble health, 1; do. died, 3. Total confinements in the Asylum, 155.

Of the Children born in the Asylum, there were boys, 74; girls, 62.

The condition of the children at birth was: Living, 137; dead, 7; premature, 2.

Summary of confinements: House cases, 155; District cases, 933—total, 988.

The Treasury of the Asylum is not in bad condition. The total receipts of the year wer $4,424. The expenses, $3,878. Officers were elected as follows:

Directresses—1st, Mrs. J. W. Schmidt; 2d, Mrs. J. Mason; 3d, Mrs. Beche McIlvers; 4th, Mrs. Dr. Bliss; 5th, Mrs. T. A. Emmett; 6th, Mrs. Dr. Colt.

Treasurer—Mrs. Henry Colt.

Secretary—Mr. J. R. Nevins.

Managers—Mrs. O. J. Cammann, Mrs. James Brooks, Mrs. Dr. J. B. Andarises, Mrs. G. J. Cornell, Mrs. Ogden Hoffman, Mrs. Samuel Jordon, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Frederick Jones, Mrs. G. W. Sumner, Mrs. E. B. Little, Mrs. S. H. Foster, Mrs. B. S. Bullers, Mrs. T. W. Clerke, Mrs. Colden, Mrs. B. W. Leigh, Mrs. J. H. Mortimer, Mrs. Henry Mover, Mrs. Leonard Corning, Mrs. W. Starr Miller, Mrs. John Murry, Mrs. Lydig.

What Steamer's was it?

The British bark Alliance, which arrived yesterday, reports that when in latitude 37° 28', longitude 71° 47', saw the top part of a steamship's paddle-box, painted black, with a new board in it.

☞ Mr. THOMAS STACK will launch from his yard foot of North Second-street, Brooklyn, this day, at 3½ P. M., the ship Graham's Polly, of 1,000 tons burden. This ship was built for Messrs. LAYTIN & HURLBUT's line of Antwerp packets. Captain M. H. HAYDEN is to command her.

☞ The Chambers-street Bank for Savings was removed yesterday to the very fine new marble structure No. 67 Bleecker-street, nearly opposite Crosby. The old granite banking-house in Chambers-street is to come down, and be replaced by new and splendid stores, which will extend to the corner of Church-street.

☞ The first boat that arrived at Albany this season was the P. G. Coffin, from Hudson, which boat reached there at an early hour Thursday morning. The P. G. Coffin was quickly followed by the South America, from New-York, reaching the city at 11 o'clock. The racing season will open soon. Indeed, between here and Poughkeepsie it opened some time since.

☞ The friends of Col. T. B. THORPE will regret to learn that he now lies dangerously ill at his residence, in Brooklyn. It is not probable that he will be able to leave his house in some time, even though he should recover from his illness.

☞ The Lobbying Committee, sent by the New-York Liquor Dealers' Society, have returned from Albany in good spirits. They had a fine time. The Society which they represented has or had a well-filled Treasury.

☞ Mr. CURTIS continues delirious, with occasional ebullitions of violence alternating with sleep. His physicians considered his case manageable up to our last advices. Mr. CURTIS is 74 years of age.

☞ Mr. MCKEEN was pronounced by his physicians somewhat better last evening, but continues very low.

☞ Col. MING, the Mayor's Clerk, is still quite ill.

GENIN'S STYLES FOR CHILDREN—STRAW HATS FOR SPRING AND SUMMER—TO-DAY, will be opened, at GENIN'S lower store, No. 214 Broadway, the largest and most beautiful assortment of Straw Hats, Caps and Flats, for children and misses, ever offered at that establishment. The stock consists of more than twenty varieties of Paris Hats, and a still greater number of home designs and manufacture, suitable for children of both sexes and of all ages, from the infant in arms to the young lady of 16 or 17 years of age.

The French artists in straw have produced this season, a number of new braids, and have displayed extraordinary taste in the novel and becoming shapes into which they have moulded these delicate materials. The designers employed in the GENIN factory have, also, surpassed all their former efforts in the same department, and it may be confidently asserted that so great a diversity of fabrics and style in Straw Head-gear for children has never before been introduced in New-York. All these novelties are exhibited for the first time, THIS DAY, at GENIN'S, No. 214 Broadway, opposite St. Paul's Church.

STEARNS & MARVIN'S WILDER PATENT SALAMANDER SAFES—Secured by their celebrated La Belle Lock, afford better protection from fire and gunpowder than any article of the kind now offered to the public.

We invite bankers, jewelers, merchants, and all others who desire the best fire-proof safe ever invented, to call and examine our stock, of every desirable size, with an improved style of finish, which, by reason of our increased manufacturing facilities, we offer at reduced prices. Dépôt No. 146 Water-st.; after May 1, No. 40 Murray-st.

STEARNS & MARVIN, manufacturers for thirteen years, and are the only persons holding an assigned right to make and sell these world-renowned salamanders.

MOTLEY'S DUTCH REPUBLIC.

IDA PFEIFFER'S SECOND JOURNEY ROUND THE WORLD.

THE TEACHER. By JACOB ABBOTT.

HARPER & BROTHERS,

Nos. 327 to 335 Pearl-st., (Franklin-square,) Publish this morning:

I.

THE RISE OF THE DUTCH REPUBLIC. A History. By JOHN LOTHROP MOTLEY. 3 vols. 8vo, muslin, $6; sheep, $6 75; half calf extra, $8 25. In this valuable contribution to historical literature by an American writer, we have a parallel to the masterly productions which have given such an enviable celebrity to the names of Irving, Prescott, Bancroft and Hildreth, in a similar department of composition. It embraces the period from the abdication of Charles V., in 1555, to the death of William the Silent, Prince of Orange, in 1584. The memorable conflict between the feudal institutions of the middle ages and the dawning light of modern liberty; between the most malignant form of religious bigotry, and the infant genius of toleration; between the arrogant claims of monarchical prescription and the timid aspirations of universal justice, is portrayed by Mr. Motley in vivid colors and with enthusiastic sympathy in the cause of human progress. The foreground of the picture is occupied by that admirable specimen of patriotism, and nobleness of character, William the Silent, whose eminent virtues belong to the same class of excellence as those which have since commanded the homage of the world in the person of Washington. The scene is crowded with significant and impressive events, connected with the development of political and religious freedom. Mr. Motley has produced a vigorous narrative worthy of the great historical theme, to which it is devoted. In beauty and animation of style, picturesque variety of grouping, and dramatic exhibition of character, his work is not surpassed by any of the classic historical productions which are among the most remarkable literary features of the age.

MADAME PFEIFFER'S SECOND JOURNEY.—A Lady's Second Journey round the World: from London to the Cape of Good Hope, Borneo, Java, Sumatra, Celebes, Ceram, the Moluccas, &c., California, Panama, Peru, Ecuador, and the United States. By IDA PFEIFFER, Authoress of the "Lady's Journey round the World," &c. 12mo, muslin, $1 25.

From the Examiner.

There is surely no little entertainment to be had from the narrative of a lady who has eaten boa-constrictor cutlets, who has sailed in a hollow tree, who has had an audience of the susu-hunan, and has felt cold in Chimborazo. The pleasure is the greater when the lady is, like Madame Pfeiffer, gentle, sensible and womanly—a lover of travel and change, but not less for that a perfect woman. She describes faithfully whatever she sees, and loves honesty and justice.

From the Literary Gazette.

With scanty funds, few letters of introduction, and no more luggage than a carpet-bag to be carried in her own hand, this elderly, and not very robust, lady sets out on journeys, the dangers and discomforts of which might well appal the hardiest of the stronger sex. Some of the places to which she penetrated had never before been visited by Europeans, and the account of parts of the interior of Borneo, Java and Sumatra, is a novel contribution to the record of travel. In the New World she passed over more familiar ground, but not on that account the less interesting will be found the reports of a traveler so observant, intelligent, and trustworthy.

THE TEACHER.—Moral Influence Employed in the Instruction and Government of the Young. A New and Revised Edition. By JACOB ABBOTT. With Engravings. 12mo., muslin, $1.—A book intended to detail, in a familiar and practical manner, a system of arrangements for the organization and management of a school, based on the employment, as far as is practicable, of Moral Influences, as a means of effecting the objects in view. Its design is, not to bring forward new theories or new plans, but to develop and explain, and to carry out to their practical applications such principles as, among all skillful and experienced teachers, are generally admitted and acted upon.

THE LEDGER ACROSTIC.

THAT 'tis Saturday morning, what mortal can doubt,
Who sees the glad news-men flying about,
For, behold! the NEW-YORK LEDGER is out—
Ninety Thousand the issue or thereabout—
Flying to answer the rush and the rout
Of people—e'en those who are lame with the gout—
Who scarcely their breakfasts can swallow without
First reading the LEDGER through, inside and out.

HURRY the news-men, the big ones and small,
Hurry the news-men, the short and the tall,
Hurry pressmen, counters, folders and all,
As louder and thicker the public out-call—
From the humblest home to the palace hall—
While the old folks sigh, and the young ones bawl,
And the town's in a roar, and a whirl, and a squall,
Till they've purchased the LEDGER and read it through, all.

EACH week but increases the general furore,
While subscribers and buyers come in by the score;
By hundreds and thousands, who never before,
Had thought of a paper, except as a bore,
Till the LEDGER their vision ope'd more and still more,
And they cried to its beautiful stories "encore!"
And studied its pictures and pondered them o'er,
And read and re-read till their eyes were half sore.

NO paper so popular ever was known;
So read and so quoted from zone unto zone—
From the poorest man to the King on his throne—
And why? because freighted with treasures, thick strown,
Fresh, novel and lively, and moral in tone,
And advertised widely—for merit unknown
Might hobble and starve, while BONNER has shown
How merit, well advertised, adds to its own.

EVEN here as you read BONNER'S wisdom appears,
For the LEDGER this morning is the richest for years;
Full of matter for mirth, and reflection and tears,
And all that a journal to firesides endears;
With no line to offend the most sensitive ears,
But sentiment such as the intellect cheers;
Though challenging, may be, some evil one's sneers—
Who's to folly a slave and to sense in arrears.

WHY, mark what the LEDGERS this morning contain;
"Norma Danton," continued in exquisite strain;
While from under a parasol, FANNY again
Peeps forth and speaks out in her FERN-iest vein;
Mrs. Sigourney's poems—of stories a train;
Editor BONNER'S good things, never uttered in vain,
And so much besides that no reader'll complain
That better his fourpence in pocket had lain.

YET a greater attraction remains to be told,
A new Novelette, worthy letters of gold!
Of the New World the author—the scene in the Old;
"The Gun-Maker of Moscow," both sturdy and bold,
"Or Valdimir the Monk," an anchorite cold,
"A Tale of the Empire," when Peter upreared
Russia's conquering car—to-day's LEDGER'll unfold
This story in part. Get one ere they're all sold.

OF all COBB has written, this novel's his best,
As a sun to a star, it shines over the rest;
By THWAITES illustrated, it must be confessed
The LEDGER to-day'll be a thrice-welcome guest,
And thousands will read it ere pillows are pressed
By Earth's sleepers to-night—and read it with zest,
That will lengthen the days till they get at the rest,
And learn the whole story and feel themselves blest.

REMEMBER! the LEDGER that's issued TO-DAY—
Or rather this morn ere the dawn's early gray,
(While dreams in your brains very like were at play)
Is the one that contains these rich things—so away
To news-man or news-boy (but FOUR CENTS to pay)
And a LEDGER secure while secure it you may,
For they'll go like hot cakes—it's unsafe to delay!
Buy your LEDGER—then read at your leisure all day.

KIND reader, to know what blessings this age
Confers to your weal through the newspaper page,
Go back to the days when the seer and the sage,
Kept learning and knowledge, like bears in a cage,
Ere Guthenburg's types threw the monks in a rage;
Be thirsty for reading, with naught to assuage
But mumbling of friars—and gold, I'll engage,
Would be worthless compared to one LEDGER'S fair page.

LUCK with the LEDGER'S had little to do;
Good management, merit, and principles true—
These were the touch-stones, which BONNER well knew
And still knows, how to blend in proportions all due;
And bravely he's battled and won his way through,
Till the LEDGER'S a mint both to him and to you,
(Good readers,) and still it's as fresh as 'twere new—
Like the wine that was better the older it grew.

EVERY week something rich in the LEDGER you'll find;
A little, at least, to suit every one's mind;
The last being better, and best of its kind!
And who runs, if he reads, must be stupid or blind
(Or not to be pleased very strongly inclined)
If he cannot some thread from the LEDGER'S web wind
Round bouquets of mem'ry, worth hoarding, to bind—
Bouquets from the LEDGER'S gems gathered and twined.

DOING well in the past, in the future still more
BONNER'll do for the LEDGER—he's projects in store.
Too rich and too many to name them all o'er;
New novels, new stories, (no line that can bore,)
Steady writers of talent and genius, a score;
He's bound to surprise you as never before,
Till the news-man more welcome is hailed at each door,
And the LEDGER is read the two hemispheres o'er.

GIVE praise to the LEDGER, then; praise, too, the will
Of BONNER to make it more popular still;
He's conquered the field and surmounted the hill,
And has courage, and cash, and the talent to fill
His columns with aught the best pens can distill,
From the fountain of prose and pure song's gushing rill,
Down to incidents daily, of good or of ill,
Making weekly (what's said of the play) "a strong bill."

EVERY man, woman, child, will yet clamor to see
The LEDGER, that's spicy as fearless and free:
And ready each Saturday morning 'twill be,
And hundreds of thousands will read and agree—
What's suggested itself to you and to me—
That the palm and the wreath from the greenland tree
To the LEDGER and BONNER belong! "So say we,"
Cry the legions who read them by land and by sea.

REMEMBER, the LEDGER this morning to get—
This Saturday morn—'tis the richest one yet!
All sparkling with treasures of wisdom and wit,
And something the taste of each reader to hit.
O! the LEDGER'S the paper, there's nothing like it
To chase glooms and shadows, if any should flit
O'er the heart or the brain—or give ennui a fit.

"MY FRIENDS," said HENRY WARD BEECHER to a company just starting for Kansas, "be sure and take with each of you a Bible, a Sharpe's rifle and a NEW-YORK LEDGER; the Bible for your instruction—the rifle for your defence—and the LEDGER for your entertainment." Good advice that, especially the Bible and the LEDGER part. The LEDGER should have a large circulation in Kansas—it would promote intelligence, sound morality, good feeling and peace. It costs ONLY FOUR CENTS. In the number for this (SATURDAY) morning is commenced a new tale, by SYLVANUS COBB, JR., which is splendidly illustrated. FANNY FERN writes for the LEDGER, and for no other paper.

PUBLISHED THIS DAY,

MARGUERITE DE VALOIS,

AN HISTORICAL ROMANCE.

BY ALEXANDRE DUMAS.

Price 50 cents.

In perusing the history of France, the reader glides over the annals of several centuries, without encountering many incidents to disturb his equanimity. Scarcely an incident is brought forward that may not be viewed as natural to the time in which it occurred; hardly a character introduced for which the then existing state of society could not reasonably account. Suddenly, however, the reader's eye lights up with resentment—his features crimson with indignation—his heart beats with painful violence—his whole being is on fire. The incident which has produced this startling change has been pronounced by Alison, "the most crushing drama ever enacted in history;" by Sir Walter Scott, "the most stupendous crime that ever shocked humanity." It is this incident that the literary Titan of France has taken for the groundwork of his great masterpiece—MARGARET DE VALOIS.

CREATING A SENSATION.

SHIRLEY BROOKS' GREAT NOVEL.

ASPEN COURT.

In 1 vol. of 504 pages, neatly bound in cloth. Price $1 25.

Hear the Newark Daily Advertiser.

Aspen Court is a great book. A giant among giants, it towers high above its associates. It is written with great power and vigor, combining the anatomical accuracy of Thackeray with the grace and pathos of Dickens. If this is a first book we should think the author bids fair to equal, if not excel, either of these modern great writers. Like Thackeray's works, its tendency is to teach that even the best of men have two sides, one of which is not either good or great. Be that as it may, this delineation of European character is destined to a long perpetuity as a vivid sketch of life in the Nineteenth Century, and a most powerful work of fiction.

As a history of the country

This book is invaluable, inasmuch as it notices a great many events not mentioned by Bancroft, Hildreth, or Prescott. As a novel it is unapproachable, for it contains several characters unknown to Cooper, Dickens, Marryat or Bulwer. As a mythological work, it should be immediately secured, as it makes mention of a number of goods and deified worthies hitherto unknown to old Jupiter himself. As a Poem its claims to consideration cannot be denied, as it comprises a great many beauties not discoverable in "The Song of Hiawatha," besides several Indian names which were therein omitted.

A VOICE FROM SEBASTOPOL,

MEMOIR OF CAPTAIN HEDLEY VICARS,

Of the 97th Regiment, who fell before Sebastopol, in March, 1855. 16mo; 75 cents.

From the Christian Observer.

In this attractive volume is recorded the life of an English officer, who, though cut down by a Russian bullet in the vigor of early manhood, lived long enough to bear living, acting testimony to the efficacy of the gospel as it is in Jesus. This blessed Gospel enabled him, while a soldier of the British army, to be also a soldier of Christ, and to become an angel of mercy and instrument of great good, while still engaged in arduous labors as an officer, amid the ravages of pestilence, disease, and war on the bleak plains of the Crimea. The story of his affectionate tenderness, heroic courage, and exemplary Christian character, will vibrate chords of sympathy in the reader's heart, and if it will incite him to a similar course of action will be productive of real benefit.

From the Boston Daily Bee.

There is much in it to touch the heart, much to admire, much that will linger in the memory. Life, society, love, death—the grave, gay, sad, inspiring—the many phases which occur in the every-day life of New-England, and from the contemplation of which there is always so much to ennoble, instruct and satisfy. The characters of Dr. Field, Mrs. Decker, Mike, Mary Thorp, Alida, Nat Brandon, Maria, Louisa, Celestine, George Lapell and others have the touch of a master hand—one who understands human nature to his pen's end. The book will be read to the finis, and with interest, if life in one of its most natural phases, not unmixed with the romantic, is relishable.

SYLVANUS COBB'S NEW STORY.

All read the great Russian story by COBB,
As it is in the LEDGER, and cry and sob;
Every heart doth indignantly throb,
And some are ready the Russians to mob,
While others think 'twould be a bad job;
And many a pitiful, graceless snob,
Would with the Emperor rather hob-nob,
No matter how much he may murder and rob.
In the meanwhile our go-ahead BOB
BONNER is cramming the cash in his fob,
So fast that soon he'll be a na-bob.
When FANNY FERN, and BOB, and COBB,
Are yoked in one team, the most ob-

durate rivals will have to knock under and acknowledge that the NEW-YORK LEDGER, with its unequaled stories and unparalleled illustrations, and which is sold for ONLY FOUR CENTS, is the best and cheapest family paper in the world.

THE GREAT PRIZE TALE by SYLVANUS COBB, JR.—Will be commenced in the NEW-YORK LEDGER of this morning. It will be splendidly illustrated, and will cost ONLY FOUR CENTS. It can be obtained at all the news offices.

THE LEDGER ALPHABET.

AWAKE! hurrah! the Gun-Maker's coming,
Every one for the LEDGER'S now running;
Myriad voices are echoing—humming,
And the rush and crash are perfectly stunning.

BIG bugs and little bugs jostle each other,
Pulling and hauling this way then t'other;
Newsboys and newsmen are all in their glory,
Buying and selling the famous new story—

COBB'S story—writ by SYLVANUS COBB, Jr.,
Brimful of interest, of wit and of humor—
The most thrilling tale that e'er was related,
And the most beautifully illustrated.

DEAR darling Tale—so delightfully done,
What sighing and crying there'll be 'fore thou'rt gone:
Rurie Nevel—that's the name of the hero—
Though in Moscow he lived, ne'er falls to zero.

EAGLE-like he soars over opponents,
Scorns all the plots his enemy foments;
Laughing to scorn Astrologer's portents;
He's balmed in the LEDGER, which sells for four cents.

FANNY FERN for the LEDGER writes only,
Her wit cheers those who else might be lonely;
Everybody's eager her "Fresh Fern Leaves" to read,
And all wish the LEDGER a hearty God speed.

GREAT is our list of the greatest writers,
Glorious the array of witty inditers—
So large the list, not well could it bigger be,
And on it you'll find the famed MRS. SIGOURNEY;

HER NAME still wins our heart's best devotions,
Still 'tis a watchword at every hearth
Friendship and love are the pleasing emotions
Its musical sound ever calls into birth.

IN the LEDGER, which is always exciting,
There's something pointed, pithy, fresh and inviting,
In every line there's the tip-toppest writing—
All ages and genders it is always delighting.

JOKES and stories, with grand Illustrations,
Picture's terrific, and fresh distillations
Of genius and art, whose great combinations
Fill up the measure of bright fascinations.

KAMEHAMEA, the Sandwich Island king
Who lives in a place called Honolulu,
Thinks that the LEDGER is just the thing
To cheer his spirits when they are too blue.

LADIES and Lords, Kings and Empresses,
At least to the fact Eugenie confesses,
Value the LEDGER for its pleasing variety,
And wait for its coming with exceeding anxiety.

MOSCOW'S where lived COBB'S Gun-maker,
Who made such work for the undertaker,
In killing off tyrants and their cursed progeny,
As greatly raised the price of mahogany.

NAPOLEON when Moscow was burning,
Knew not young Nevel's his flanks were turning,
With myriad fleet-mounted, merciless Cossacks,
Whose blood-thirsty souls delighted in attacks,

OR he'd have hastened his retreat to Smolensko,
Nor left the grand army to perish 'mid dense snow;
While cruel Cossacks cannonading come,
Dealing destruction, death's devastating doom.

PETER the Great knew our Gun-maker,
And where's the Peter that ever was greater;
And there's a Black Monk that cuts quite a figure,
Whose head was enormous, whose stomach was bigger.

QUEER those times, and queer the Russians,
Who seared with hot irons a baby's contusions,
While ladies tamed reindeer and bears for their pets,
And soldiers used icicles for bayonets.

RARE are the scenes which COBB has related,
And rare the cuts with which they're illustrated,
Even FANNY FERN'S artistic cravings
Must be satisfied with such engravings.

SPEAKING of the witty FANNY,
How in the name of Mammon can a
Man for the price of the LEDGER care at all,
Who gets a "peep from under her parasol."

THE LEDGER'S splendid Illustrations,
Which receive so many commendations,
But which nobody over-rates,
Are drawn by the artistic THWAITES.

UNIVERSALLY known to be the best
In his profession, East or West,
And whose work such an awful price fetches,
That but very few can pay for his sketches.

VAIN are the efforts of enraged competitors,
With their quips and cranks and stupid metaphors,
To lessen the LEDGER'S hold on the people—
They might as well try to swallow a steeple.

WITH all its splendid Illustrations,
And myriad other fascinations,
Which sparkle in its varied contents,
The LEDGER'S price is ONLY FOUR CENTS.

XANTIPPE, Xerxes, Xenophon,
And all the X's found upon
The Historic page, nor every rover
That through ages have wandered over

YANKEE-LAND, and Europe—Asia,
Afric's sands and Australasia,
Have ever seen, in all their roamings,
'Mid desert wastes and ocean's foamings,

ZANGUEBAR'S Plains, or Scotia's Hi'lands,
The frozen Zones, or Indian Islands,
Aught that with the LEDGER can compare—
With its beauty and grace so wondrous fair.

& ALL its splendid Illustrations,
And the resistless fascinations
Of its glowing, sparkling, thrilling contents—
And yet the LEDGER'S sold for FOUR CENTS.

MORAL.

Now all you Ladies fair, take warning,
And all wind and weather scorning,
Since there's such grace the LEDGER adorning,
Secure it early this (SATURDAY) morning.

POSTCRIPT.

Remember, too, that SYLVANUS COBB'S story
Will be in the LEDGER to-day in its glory,
With Illustrations such as might
Anybody but rivals delight.

MUSICAL SOIREES.

WM. MASON and CARL BERGMANN, with Messrs. THOMAS, MOSENTHAL, and MATZKA, will give TWO CLASSICAL SOIREES, on TUESDAY EVENINGS, April 15 and 22, at Dodworth's Academy; at which, selections of classical music similar to those in the programmes of their Matinees will be given.

PRICES OF ADMISSION.—Single tickets for a gentleman, $1; single ticket for a lady, 50 cents; gentleman's ticket, admitting to both Soirees, $1 50; lady's do., 75 cents.

Tickets for sale at Messrs. SCHARFENBERG & LUIS'S, C. BREUSING'S, SCHUBERT & CO.'S, S. T. GORDON'S, and WM. HALL & SON'S.

A NEW FASHION, AND A GOOD ONE.—It has become a common practice among New-Yorkers, who wish to make their friends at a distance a nice present, to subscribe for and send them the NEW-YORK LEDGER for a year. This is a habit which cannot become too general. What more appropriate and ever-welcome gift than a year's subscription to such a paper?—unless it be a two years' one? And as the recipient every week hangs with delight over the LEDGER'S elegant pages, what grateful emotions will arise toward the giver. What gentleman would not think it a bargain for two dollars to be thus remembered and blessed fifty-two times a year, by some fairy being whose image is daguerreotyped upon his memory?

Now is a good time to make such presents, as the LEDGER is just commencing a new and interesting story by SYLVANUS COBB, Jr., entitled the GUN-MAKER OF MOSCOW. FANNY FERN'S "Peeps from under a Parasol," are alone worth a year's subscription. The LEDGER is four cents a copy, or $2 a year.

GOTTSCHALK'S MUSIC.—We have just published the "Marche de Nuit," and "The Last Hope," which have been such great favorites, and had such wonderful success at Gottschalk's late soirees. They are produced in the best style, and exactly as played by the composer. Where the passages are difficult there is an extra stave, for facility, thus bringing them within the capacity of performers of medium ability. "The Last Hope" is altogether different from an old edition of the same work. Inquire for Hall's new and only correct edition. In press, "La Serenade," ballade; also, new editions of "Souvenir d'Andalousie," "Jota Aragonesa," "Jerusalem," fantaisie, and other favorite pieces.

FOR SALE.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.—THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAILROAD COMPANY IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL OVER TWO MILLION OF ACRES OF FARMING LANDS, [illegible] of 40 acres and upwards, on long credit [illegible] interest.

These lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Road, and include some of the richest and most fertile prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the South, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the northwest extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc., afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, &c.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well-known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly-broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to $2 50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc., will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high-priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1 50 to $4 per ton; wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota should bear in mind that lands there, of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of, that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, Railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence, Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre, are not so good investments as the land of the Company at the prices fixed.

The same remarks hold good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses, the distance to market is far greater and every hundred miles the produce of these lands is carried either in wagons, or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this Company, and their consequent yield over those of the Eastern and Middle States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of Summer, or the frost of Winter.

PRICE AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The price will vary from $5 to $25, according to location, quality, &c. Contracts for deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase-money to be paid in five annual instalments. The first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

INTEREST WILL BE CHARGED AT ONLY THREE PER CENT. PER ANNUM.

As a security to the performance of the contract, the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one-tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Longer credits, at 6 per cent. per annum, may be negotiated by special application. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS, WHICH CAN BE SET UP IN A FEW DAYS, CAN BE OBTAINED FROM RESPONSIBLE PERSONS.

They will be 12 feet by 20 feet, divided into one living and three bedrooms, and will cost complete, set up on ground chosen anywhere along the Road, $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over their road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands, will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the meantime, the rapid settlement of the country will, probably, have increased their value four or fivefold. When required, an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars, containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well-known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also, the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c., by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German. Address to
JOHN WILSON,
Land Commissioner of the Illinois Central R. R. Co.,
No. 52 Michigan-av., Chicago, Ill.

PROPOSALS.

OFFICE SUPERINTENDENT PUBLIC PRINTING,
WASHINGTON, April [illegible], 1856.

COPPER-PLATE AND WOOD ENGRAVING AND LITHOGRAPHIC DRAWING AND PRINTING.—Duplicate proposals will be received at this office until the 25th day of April inst., at 12 o'clock M., for engraving upon copper, for the use of the Senate and House of Representatives, in the best manner, fifteen charts of harbors, &c., to accompany the report of Commodore Perry of the recent expedition to Japan.

Also, for transferring and printing [illegible] thousand four hundred and twenty [illegible] of each chart.

Also, for drawing on stone, and printing in two or more colors, the same number of impressions of certain plates of Natural History and Conchology, to accompany the same report.

Also, for transferring and cutting on wood, in the very best style, one hundred or more pages of machinery (4½-15 by 12 inches) to illustrate the report of the Commissioner of Patents on Mechanics.

Also, for transferring from copper, and printing in the best manner on stone, twenty-two thousand nine hundred and twenty impressions of sixty charts, to accompany the annual report of the Superintendent of the Coast Survey.

Also, for engraving on stone, or drawing in crayon and printing, twenty-three thousand nine hundred and twenty impressions each of certain quarto plates of [illegible] inches) of Botany, Natural History, Conchology, and Geology, to accompany the reports of surveys of routes for railroad to Pacific Ocean.

Also, for drawing or engraving on stone, and printing and coloring, for the use of the House of Representatives, 10,000 copies of a map of Central America.

The illustrations will be open at this office, for the inspection of those persons desirous of bidding for the same, until the closing of the bids, and any information desired will also be furnished.

The paper required for printing the lithographs will be furnished by this office.

Contracts will be entered into with, and bonds with security will be required from, the successful bidders for the faithful execution of their contracts.

It is to be distinctly understood, that no bid will be entertained from any parties not directly engaged in, and practically acquainted with the style of work bid for.

The bids will state separately the price, and but one price, for each class of work bid for; and in the lithography, the price for engraving or drawing; and the price for printing, either transfer, in crayon or colors, the price per hundred and one thousand copies for each tint or color, and the time required for the execution of the work, or portions of the same; and must be addressed, one to the Chairman of the Committee on Engraving, House of Representatives, United States, and one to A. G. Seaman, Superintendent of Public Printing, Washington, D. C., and be indorsed "Proposals for Copper-plate," or "Wood Engraving," or "Lithographing."
A. G. SEAMEN, Superintendent.

TO BUILDERS.—Sealed proposals will be received until Tuesday, April [illegible], at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, for furnishing the materials and doing the work necessary for the erection of and finishing of a new building extending to and connecting with Ward School House No. 44, corner of North Moore and Varick sts., and building to be erected on lot No. 116 West Broadway, in the Vth Ward.

Separate proposals will be received for the masons' work and materials, or for the carpenter's work and materials, and the builder may, in addition, propose for the whole. Each proposal must state the names and residences of the persons proposed by the bidder, as sureties for the performance of his contract.

The plans and elevations can be seen at the office of Thomas R. Jackson, Architect, corner of Broadway and Barclay sts., of whom, or of the Clerk of the Board of Education, or of either of the Building Committee, printed copies of the specifications can be procured. Proposals which should be indorsed, "Proposals for the extension of the Vth Ward School No. 44," will be received at the office of the Clerk of the Board of Education, corner Grand and Elm sts., or by either of the Building Committee. No proposals will be received after the time appointed above, the School Officers of the Ward reserving the right to reject any or all of the proposals.

By order of the Board of School Officers of the Vth Ward. New-York, April 1, 1856.

MEDICAL.

PRIVATE CONSULTATIONS.

DR. WATSON confines his practice to a certain class of disease, in which he has treated more than twenty thousand cases, without one instance of failure. The remedies are mild, and do not keep the patient from business or expose him to detection, while in most recent cases there is a cure in twenty-four hours. Dr. WATSON desires to state that, as many have been deceived by the promises of certain charlatans, and been injured by drugs, patients are respectfully invited to call, in the first place, as there is no charge for consultations.

W. WATSON, M. D.,

Many years Surgeon in the Lock Hospital; Author of "The Cause and Cure," numerous plates, $1. Office No. 80 Walker-st., fourth door west of Broadway.

TO THE AFFLICTED.
A MEDICAL WONDER.
RYAN'S LIFE BALSAM.
RHEUMATISM, GOUT, AND NEURALGIA
in their most painful form;
ALSO,

Scrofula, Old Ulcers, Erysipelas, Great Impurity of Blood, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Fistula, Piles, Liver Complaint, Kidneys, Debility, etc.; Canker Sore Mouth, Ulcerated Sore Throats, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, &c., &c., &c.

Are most certainly cured by this great purifying medicine.

A thousand cases have been cured, and published in the Sun, Times, Herald, and other papers, after all other remedies had failed.

SCROFULA.

A lady in the family of F. W. Gilley, Esq., of the well known Bowery dry goods store, No. 116, has just been cured of a case of scrofulous ulceration of nine years' standing, and of so stubborn and distressing a nature, that many of the most scientific of the medical profession had failed to cure or find a name for. Mr. Gilley will most cheerfully give any information in relation to this most extraordinary case to any person who may desire it.

Mrs. Burrow, No. 137 Eldridge-st.—This lady had suffered for years, until life became intolerable; some of the ulcers had consumed the flesh to the skull and bones. She was cured in a month.

ULCERS.

W. Jarvis, Esq., No. 277 Hicks-st., Brooklyn, was afflicted for years with a destructive ulcer on the leg, reaching to the bone. After the physician had exhausted his skill on it, he recommended amputation as the only means of saving life. Mr. Jarvis then, as a last resort, commenced with the Life Balsam—three bottles perfectly healed this terrible ulcer.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF ULCERS TEN INCHES IN LENGTH, AND REACHING TO THE BONE.

Mr. Wm. McClarren, No. 26 Reade-st., was lately cured of several terrible ulcers on the leg, one of which was ten inches long, and had discharged several pieces of bone. Mr. McClarren had been attended by able physicians, who were unable to arrest the progress of this desperate case, which the Life Balsam perfectly cured in a very short time.

DYSPEPSIA.

Mr. James McKim, whose office is at No. 42 Front-st., was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia of the severest kind for years, when he was perfectly cured by the Life Balsam.

RHEUMATISM.

Mr. T. Johnson, No. [illegible] 44th-st., was a cripple most of the time during four years; his knees were swollen to twice their natural size, and the pains he endured were most intense. One bottle enabled him to walk, and three completed the cure.

SEVERE INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM AND GOUT.

B. Rice, Esq., No. 22 Grove-st., was for more than a year so severely afflicted that he had to abandon his business, and was soon unable to walk or rest his foot upon the ground. His feet and joints were swollen to double their natural size, and he was unable to enjoy one hour's sleep except through opium or some more powerful drugs. Mr. Rice visited the Springs, and had the best medical advice, but he could obtain no relief until the Life Balsam came to his aid. A few bottles restored him to excellent health, nor has he suffered any other attack, though five years have since elapsed.

COUGHS, COLDS, CONSUMPTION.

The Balsam is daily curing the worst cases of these complaints. It cured Mr. J. H. Godwin of pain in the side, breast, and spitting of blood, after he had been afflicted for years, and was reduced to the last stage of weakness, and considered beyond the reach of medicine. Mr. Godwin's office is at No. 114 Elizabeth-st. He is now in the enjoyment of perfect health. Let the afflicted call and see him.

Principal depot, No. 246 Grand-st., where advice will be given without charge. 75 cts. per bottle; six for $4.

For sale also by C. V. CLICKENER & CO., No. 81 Barclay-st.; C. H. RING, No. 192 Broadway; WHEELER & HART, No. 20 Beekman-st.; BARNES & PARK, No. 304 Broadway, and by the Druggists generally. Agent for Brooklyn, Mrs. HAYES, No. 175 Fulton-st.

REPRESENTATIVE IN AMERICA,

Dr. Barrow, No. 31 Greene-st., near Canal, New-York, specially appointed by the proprietor and patentee of TRIESEMAR.—THE GREAT EUROPEAN DISCOVERY.—Protected by Royal Letters Patent of England, and secured by the seals of the École de Pharmacie de Paris, and the Imperial College of Medicine, Vienna.

TRIESEMAR No. 1—Is the remedy of general and local debility, loss of virile power, premature decay, and all the distressing consequences arising from early abuse, &c. Its effects are efficacious in youth, manhood and old age; the virile powers would not become impaired, even in the decline of life, if the Triesemar were universally adopted; all physical impediments vanish like magic before its influence, thus rendering its use invaluable to those entering the marriage state.

TRIESEMAR No. 2—Completely and entirely eradicates all traces of those disorders which copavia and cubebs have so long been thought an antidote for, to the ruin of the health of a vast portion of the population.

TRIESEMAR No. 3—Is the great European remedy for that class of disorders which, unfortunately, the English physician treats with mercury, to the inevitable destruction of the patient's constitution, and which all the Sarsaparilla in the world cannot remove.

TRIESEMAR Nos. 1, 2 and 3—Are alike devoid of taste or smell, and all nauseating qualities. They may lay on the toilet table without their use being detected.

Sold in tin cases at $3 each, or four cases in one for $8, which saves $4; and in $27 cases, whereby there is a saving of $9; divided into separate doses, as administered by Valpeau, Lallemand, Roux, &c.

To be had, wholesale and retail, and forwarded immediately on receiving a remittance, to any part of the world, by H. A. BARROW, M. D., No. 31 Greene-st., near Canal, New-York. Attendance daily, from 11 A. M. till 2 P. M., and from 4 to 8 P. M., (Sundays excepted,) unless by previous appointment, No. 31 Greene-st., near Canal. Will remove, on the 1st of May next, to No 157 Prince-st.

$500 REWARD.—JEFFRIES' ANTIDOTE—A specific mixture for the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, and similar disorders. It makes a speedy cure, without the last restriction of diet, drink, exposure, or change in application to business. Our object is to notify where it can be had, and the proprietor challenges a single case of recent Gonorrhœa which the mixture will not cure, under a forfeiture of $500. Further—the disease cannot be contracted if a dose of the mixture is taken when exposed. Repeated experiments and long experience have proved that it will radically cure any case which can be produced. This desirable result is obtained in from two to ten days, and as it neither creates nausea nor offends the palate, and renders unnecessary any deviation in diet or interruption to usual pursuits, sound sleep or healthy digestion, the nuisance is thus removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure. Its ingredients are entirely vegetable, and no injurious effect, either constitutionally or locally, can be caused by its use. Price $1 per bottle. Agent, C. H. RING, No. 192 Broadway, corner of John-st., and corner Broadway and 14th-st.

DR. HUNTER'S NEW MEDICAL WORK, THE VADE MECUM, giving the London, Paris and Vienna treatment, 300 pages, full of colored plates. Among its contents is the anatomy of the sexual organs of the male and female, all their diseases and weaknesses, latest discoveries in reproduction; quacks, their receipts and specifics; nervous debility, local and general, from excess and indiscretion in youth. Price four shillings. To be had of Dr. HUNTER himself, No. 3 Division-st., New-York, long and favorably known to the public. He may be consulted gratis at his old-established office, where he has practiced in one branch of medicine for the last twenty-four years and made more cures than any other man in the City, in many instances of persons considered incurable, some of which he has permission to refer to as heretofore. Charges moderate, and in all cases a cure guaranteed. Caution—My great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, that cures the disease without drying its poison in the blood, can only be had as here; it makes a speedy cure, without the least restriction in diet, drink, exposure or change in application to business. One bottle will cure the most inveterate case. Many are cured in a few hours; it entirely supersedes the dangerous and indiscriminate use of Mercury, which too often causes the inevitable destruction of the constitution.

DR. MAGNIN'S LUCINA CORDIAL, OR, ELIXIR OF LOVE.—This delightful and positive invigorant of the human system is fast superseding all other remedies; in fact, when its virtues become fully known it will be the only remedy in use. Its action on the nervous system and reproductive organs is most extraordinary; allaying all over-excitement and infusing into the nervous organization that degree of tension which is requisite to give the human system the enjoyment of its full powers, both mentally and physically. As an appetizer it is equally remarkable, assimilating with the gastric juices of the stomach, it assists them in more readily dissolving all nutritious substances and converting them into pure and wholesome blood; thus the digestion is improved and the whole framework of man moves on in a more vigorous and harmonious manner thereby. Price $[illegible] per bottle, or two bottles for $5. Principal office No. 75 Maiden-lane. DR. MAGNIN.

DR. HUNTER'S RED DROP CURES—When the treatment of other physicians and all other remedies fail. It is your only reliance for a thorough cure in certain diseases. No. 3 Division-st., the only place now so well known for the very many extraordinary cures it has performed, without diet, or hindrance from business, when all other remedies only drive the disease in the blood. $1 only. This secures the patient from secondary attacks, and is the only remedy on earth that does it. You will find this out by bitter experience, if you trust to any other medicine. It has cured thousands of cases that never would have been cured without it. Dr. HUNTER restores people to health daily, who have been almost ruined by mercury and caustics by the humbugs.

DR. LARMONT'S PARIS AND LONDON MEDICAL ADVISER AND MARRIAGE GUIDE—[illegible] edition, 400 pages, 100 electrotyped pictures, cloth $1 and 2 stamps. Among its contents is the anatomy of the generative organs of the male and female, all their diseases and weaknesses; latest discoveries in reproduction; quacks, their receipts and specifics; nervous debility, local and general, from excess and indiscretion in youth. The author's Paris and London [illegible] from 11 A. M. to 9 P. M., [illegible] Broadway, New-York. His book is also [illegible] Broadway. We commend Dr. LARMONT [illegible] Day Book, Courier.

RICORD'S PRACTICE.—Dr. C. D. HAMMOND, formerly a pupil with Ricord, of Paris, and with the celebrated surgeons of this City, Drs. Mott and Carnochan, informs the public that he may be consulted for the cure of an important class of diseases, and for those of the lungs and throat, at his conveniently-located rooms, No. 516 Broadway, opposite the St. Nicholas Hotel. Office hours from 9 to 2, and from 5 to 8. Treatment also by letter, and remedies adapted to the case sent. Consultations en Français.

C. D. HAMMOND, M. D.,
Physician, Consulting and Operative Surgeon.

MEDICAL OFFICE.—Dr. COOPER, No. 14 Duane-st., between Chatham and William sts., may be consulted with confidence. His medicines are applicable to every form of disease; even the weakest of them can take them without fear of discovery. His medicines for nervous debility, after removing the disease, leave the system in as good condition as before the dread malady took up its abode therein. Office hours from 8 o'clock A. M. to 8 o'clock P. M.

MEDICAL.

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA.
THE ORIGINAL AND GENUINE ARTICLE

for scrofulous and ulcerous affections, and in all diseases in which Sarsaparilla is recommended by the faculty, this preparation has proved itself superior to all others. Prepared and sold by A. B. & D. SANDS, No. 100 Fulton-st.

EFFICACIOUS CURE FOR CORNS, BUNIONS, CALLOSITIES—Nails growing into the flesh, and every disorder of the feet, by a new and peculiar method, without causing the slightest pain.

Monsieur LEVI, No. 20 Rue de Rivoli, Paris, and No. 3 Conduit-st., Regent-st., London, Surgeon Chiropodist to the Emperor of France and the Royal Family of England, having been specially invited to New-York to attend some distinguished families, intends remaining here, and may be consulted daily, Sundays excepted, at his office, from 10 to 4 o'clock, at No. 91 11th-st., between 5th and 6th avs.

COPIES OF TESTIMONIALS.

From His Imperial Majesty, Napoleon III., Emperor of France.

Je certifie que M. Levi enleve les cors avec une extreme habileté. LOUIS NAPOLEON BONAPARTE.

From James Baker, Esq.

I certify that Dr. Levi has cured me some months ago of several troublesome bunions without the least pain, and which had annoyed me for many years. I walk at present with great comfort, and cheerfully recommend Dr. Levi to my friends and the public. JAMES BAKER.

New-York, March 24, 1856. No. 22 East 17th-st.

From Robert Ferguson, Esq., M. D., Physician in Ordinary to Her Majesty of Great Britain.

Mr. Levi has most skillfully extracted two corns from my feet, without giving me the slightest pain.

ROBERT FERGUSON, M. D.
No. 8 Queen-st., May Fair, London, March 3, 1855.

From H. J. Feltus, Esq.

Unsolicited by Mr. Levi, I beg leave to testify to his successful skill in having perfectly removed a large bunion of long standing, without causing any pain.

H. J. FELTUS, No. 4 Boston Row.
Philadelphia, July 27, 1852.

In addition to the above authenticated testimonials, many thousands more in his possession (among which are several from ladies of the highest rank) can be seen by favoring him with a call at his office, No. 91 West 11th-st., between 5th and 6th avs., New-York.

N. B.—No professional connection with any person.

THE POETRY OF PHYSIC.—AYER'S PILLS glide, sugar-shod, over the palate, but their energy, although wrapped up, is there, and tells with giant force on the very foundations of disease. There are thousands of sufferers who would not wear their distempers if they knew they could be cured for 25 cents. Try AYER'S PILLS, and you will know it.

Purify the blood and disease will be starved out.

Cleanse the system from impurities and you are cured already.

Take this best of all the Purgatives, and Scrofula, Indigestion, Weakness, Headache, Backache, Sideache, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Derangements of the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels, all derangements and all diseases which a purgative remedy can reach, fly before them like darkness before the sun.

Reader, if you are suffering from any of the numerous complaints they cure—suffer no more; the remedy has been provided for you, and it is criminal to neglect it.

That AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is the best medicine for a Cough, is known to the whole world; and that AYER'S PILLS are the best of all Pills, is known to all who have used them.

Prepared by J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass., and sold by Druggists everywhere.

NO CHARGE UNLESS CURED.—Dr. JOHNSON, No. 16 Duane-st. (Chatham Bank Building,) may be consulted with confidence on all diseases requiring secrecy. His long experience of 24 years in this speciality of the profession enables him to treat successfully those who may have suffered from the malpractices of medical impostors, many of which are to be found in all large cities, but particularly in the City of New-York. Dr. J. being a graduate of N. Y. University, guarantees a cure in all cases undertaken. Hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M.

LADIES' HOSPITAL.—Mrs. W. H. MAXWELL would inform the ladies that she has invented and patented a new and valuable apparatus as a back-strengthener, to assist ladies in their confinement. Having had long experience and success, she would apprise ladies on the point of confinement that she will be happy to afford a comfortable home at her residence, where they can have the best medical treatment and most motherly care and nursing. POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

[illegible]

[illegible] of about [illegible] years [illegible] appeared before Justice [illegible], at the Mayor's office, and [illegible] a complaint against her husband for abandoning her. She stated that her husband, a sea captain, generally sailing from this port to the West Indies, has not contributed anything to her support for several months, and that, on parting with her on Thursday last, he refused to leave her any funds, nor would he allow her to draw on his employers during his absence. As he will sail again in a few days, she desired that he might be arrested. The Justice took the necessary steps to compel her truant husband to give her a sufficient support during his absence.

Miscellaneous.

ANOTHER BURNING-FLUID ACCIDENT.

Esther Cohen, Eliza Cohen, Simon Straus, his wife Esther, and his daughter Barbara, were all very severely burned at their residence, No. 260 Stanton-street, on Thursday evening, by the explosion of a burning-fluid lamp. Esther was replenishing the lamp when the explosion took place.

DROWNED.

Thos. Osborne, a lad 10 years of age, was drowned on Thursday afternoon, by falling into the river from a canal boat lying at Pier No. 6, East River. He was playing with some boys at the time of the accident. He was an orphan, and resided with a cousin in Whitehall-street.

KILLED BY A FALL.

An Irish laborer, named Michael Mead, while at work on the ship Guy Mannering, at the foot of Dover-street, accidentally fell through the hatchway to the lower hold, and was almost instantly killed.

The Late Arrested Fillibusters.

The Sacred Tableaux.

MR. LOUIS KELLER TO THE PUBLIC OF NEW-YORK.

Having nearly completed my contract with the manager of the Broadway Theatre, and being about to remove the exhibition of my tableaux to a building not used for theatrical representations, I deem it not improper to address a few words to the public of New-York in regard to certain violent attacks which have been made upon me; and I know that I shall be heard in a candid, generous spirit. The journal which has so grossly misrepresented the motives and the character of my representations has, I find, an established reputation obtained by availing itself of every opportunity to make personal and political capital for its editors, by attacking the religion and the clergy of the Church of Rome, and by assuming an exclusive and aggressive "American" position. It were hopeless, then, for me to expect that my reproductions of sacred pictures, painted by Catholic artists, and hanging in Catholic churches, would escape an onslaught; especially as they have received the approval of the people, the public authorities, and the clergy of most of the cultivated countries in the world, the large majority of which are Catholic in religion; and most especially as the Pope himself has honored these tableaux with his commendation, because, as it was falsely assumed by the journal in question, I was a Frenchman and a Roman Catholic.

All this being the case, I was, of course, to be persecuted; and if my persecution has secured my puritanic inquisitors a subscriber or a vote, I am so far content; because the small pecuniary losses that these attacks may have caused me, are not more than I choose to give up in charity to the needy, even among my enemies; and it would not be worth my serious consideration were it a hundred times as great as it could possibly have been; for I was not obliged to come to New-York to make my fortune—that, the unvarying favor of the public of continental Europe, and of Protestant England, during the last nineteen years, long ago secured to me. But I am an artist; and whatever may be my ability, I do not lack devotion to my art. I am willing to confess that I take delight in designing and executing tableaux vivants, and that I feel a lively pleasure in contributing to the enjoyment of the public, and in receiving tokens of its approbation. I reproduce the renowned works of the great masters of the arts of design, sparing no thought, no trouble, no expense, to make them faithful embodiments of the spirit, as well as of the forms and colors, of those immortal creations; and especially is this the case with the sacred tableaux. If I am repaid for my exertions, I, of course, am pleased; but if I do no better than to lose nothing, I can afford at this time to be content.

Born in a Protestant country (Prussia) whose system of education for the people is inferior only to that of this favored land, I am yet unable to discover in what respect my sacred tableaux differ in their effect upon those who see them from the great works of RUBENS and other masters, of which they are the faithful reproductions. But as I am accustomed to respect the religious feelings of all countries, I am glad to observe, by the generous support of the Press and the public, that in the metropolis of this great country my representations have not failed of the approval as well as the admiration which they have received throughout the civilized world. I offer my exhibitions to the citizens of New-York as a gallery of art, in which, as in all the great galleries of Europe, (the master pieces of which I bring before the eyes of those who else might never see them,) sacred and profane subjects hang side by side; the effect of both upon the spectator depending entirely upon the spirit in which he looks at them.

LOUIS KELLER.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

Since the introduction of my Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps into the United States, a number of Liquor Mixers in New-York, Boston and Philadelphia have been engaged in putting up mixed and poisonous Gin, in green cases and jugs, and to be palmed off upon the unwary for my genuine Schnapps. I have directed my agents to institute legal proceedings against all persons whom they may ascertain to be engaged in this most atrocious system of deception, and I call on the press and the public to aid them in their efforts to remedy so great an evil.

I wish the public to understand, the Schnapps is not sold by the gallon or pipe. It is only sold in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen quarts and two dozen pints, each bottle enveloped in yellow paper, with my name on the bottle, and a fac simile of my signature on the label. For sale at all the respectable Druggists' and Grocers'.

NEW SCHOOL OF MEDICINE AND PHARMACY.—THE LAST UNFOLDING OF THE ART OF HEALING.—Before any disease can be treated successfully, its effect upon every part of the body, either directly or sympathetically, the character and the cause of its presence in the system, must be perfectly understood. But this can be truly done only by the power of the internal vision. By it the Psychical Physician has at command an instrument compounding the perfected microscope and telescope, by which he can, on one side, not only resolve the pretended simple atom of the chemist, but those of light, heat, electricity, magnetism, &c.; and, on the other, see those atoms at thousands of miles. He can, therefore, at any distance, dissect each particle of your being with unerring glance. With equal facility and clearness select the remedies, and apply them in the manner best suited to your state and condition.

I frequently find in examining patients who suppose themselves far gone in consumption, or hopelessly affected with heart disease, that no such diseases exist, or if either of the organs be deranged, that the difficulty is slight and easy to be removed, but that their fears have magnified a trifling disturbance into a fatal malady. Again, there are those whose life hangs upon a thread, and they scarcely feel that they need help. This comes from the fact that their vitality is so far exhausted that they have not the power to feel that they are rapidly passing away, and that unless a speedy change is wrought their days are numbered.

It is particularly desired that all supposed hopeless cases should try this new method of cure. It is very easy, the medicines purely vegetable and very palatable. When electricity or magnetism is used it is done in the mildest way. No one can fail to be relieved if (as in some cases) it is not possible to effect a cure. Generally, the sufferer of years' standing is relieved in a few hours, and cured in a few weeks.

For the nervously debilitated female, this practice is a boon not to be hastily thrown aside. Thousands may be made well and happy who have long since despaired of health and life.

Diseases of the Lungs, in their varied forms and most advanced states; Heart, Liver and Kidney diseases, with the worst cases of Dyspepsia and Cancerous affections of the Stomach, are all curable.

Dropsy, Paralysis, Palsy, Spinal Affections and Fits, speedily relieved and almost always cured.

The worst cases of Diarrhea, Cholera and Small-Pox cured in a few hours. MRS. M. J. MARIN,

FRIDAY, April 11—P. M.

There was pretty full employment for Money among the Stock Brokers to-day at 7 ₩ cent. The rates and demand on mercantile paper, unchanged, 7½ to 9 ₩ cent. Nearly all the first-class bills on London offering at or below 109⅝ were taken up this afternoon, and at the close of 'Change hour the rate with the regular bankers was firm at 109⅝. There is a fair trade demand for remittance by the Atlantic, both in English and French Exchange. The leading Continental drawer is getting 5.17½ on Paris. There is a little more firmness also on the North of Europe. We hear of no engagements of Specie for the steamers. The drain for Boston has stopped this week, while the exchange with Philadelphia and Baltimore is in our favor, and some Gold is coming this way by express. With the Government Office, for a day or two past, the differences run in favor of the Banks. The disbursements to-day were $221,568; receipts, $115,551; regular balance this afternoon, $7,416,515. The Dry-Goods Import for the week is again heavy—say $2,246,266, against $869,260 the same week last year. The following is the summary:

	CONSUMPT'N'S DIRECT. Pkgs.	Value.	WAREHOUSED. Pkgs.	Value.	WITHDRAWN. Pkgs.	Value.
Man. of Wool	1,540	$486,452	51	$[illegible]	46	$15,517

The Stock movement is not a very decided one, either way, though prices left off steady in the afternoon. The Western Roads were generally firm, at Thursday's prices, and New-York Central ½@¾ ₩ cent. better, while Hudson River declined 1 ₩ cent., and Erie was barely sustained at 57, cash—contracts at the sellers' option, 60 days, being made a fraction below. The business on the Bond list, at the Board, shows no particular change. Some parcels of Ohio Sixes of 1860 done at 108¾@⅞, and Illinois Centrals 87⅛@¼. The private orders for European account have fallen off to a retail demand this week. The April traffic on the Railroads is reported favorable; the activity in the movement of Western freight and passengers having been greatly increased since the hard weather broke up. A good month's business is very desirable in April to make up for the disappointments in March, caused by the renewal of snow storms and ice about the beginning of that month. Some of the Western Road settlements, however, come up to last year.

The capital of the Bank of Luther Wright, of Oswego, is to be increased to $600,000. The reciprocity treaty with Canada, and the heavy Grain receipts from Chicago, added so much to the business of Oswego last season that this increase of banking capital is much desired. The Bank last year bought and sold over seven millions of exchange on New-York, besides collecting a vast amount of Grain drafts made in Chicago and Canada on the Oswego millers. Mr. LUTHER WRIGHT is President of the Bank, Mr. S. H. LATHROP, Vice-President, and Mr. A. A. BRADLEY, late of Fort Plain, the Cashier.

Cotton Circular.

Per Atlantic.] NEW-YORK, Friday, April 11, 1856.

The market has been uniformly firm and speculative during the fortnight. The advices per Atlantic and Asia, which were calculated to have a depressing effect, have been counteracted by the falling off in the receipts at Charleston, Savannah and Mobile, causing speculation on their continuance as [illegible] to prices at all [illegible] daily averaged 3,500 bales [illegible] total advance of [illegible] in that period. Sales to [illegible] have also been largely [illegible] larger figure. The buying [illegible] been about equally divided between speculators for resale, our own Spinners, and exporters to Liverpool and the Continent of Europe. The market closed quiet yesterday, but firm at our quotations, speculators and exporters pausing for light from Liverpool.

Planters being employed with the preparation of their ground for the next crop, the receipts would naturally be small at this season on streams that have been navigable for any length of time. This is apparent at Mobile, as the landings are exhausted, and some time must elapse before they can be replenished in due course. At Charleston and Savannah even, it is not supposed to be owing to any deficiency of Cotton, but to the unwillingness of growers to sell the remainder of their crop unless at enhanced rates. The effect, however, has been to diminish the number of the large crop party, and to give renewed confidence to those who believe in 3,300,000 to 3,400,000 bales. Our own belief is, that the receipts will soon be renewed, and that the falling off from the present excess over last year will be too small to give unbiassed judgments confidence in a crop under 3,500,000. Our opinion of a yield nearer 3,600,000 than 3,500,000 remains unchanged. But should money become decidedly cheaper in England, we think speculation will control prices, and many think 7d. for Middling as quite possible this Summer. T. J. STEWART & CO.

Breadstuffs in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Monday, April 7, 1856.

To the Editor of the New-York Daily Times:

Many of our largest farmers retained their stock of Wheat, last Fall, until it was too late to send it to market. They had, therefore, to keep it all through the Winter—but they are now sending it forward pretty freely, and there is no scarcity in this locality, though much of our available supply is not exposed for sale, having been stored away, in expectation of higher prices.

We cannot now quote Wheat as worth over $1 ₩ bushel, or Flour over $6@$6 25 ₩ bbl. Indian Corn is very dull of sale, at 30c. ₩ bushel. We have an adequate stock of it within our reach. Oats are also tolerably plenty, and procurable at 25c.@30c. ₩ bushel.

Our Wheat crop in this neighborhood is very backward, owing to the influence of unusually bad weather, and present prospects favor a late Spring.

Western View of the Flour Inspection Reform.

At a meeting of dealers and others interested in the Flour trade of Milwaukee, held, on the 3d inst., at the Milwaukee Corn Exchange, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the members of the Milwaukee Corn Exchange do most cordially approve of the recent efforts for a better and more reliable flour inspection in the City of New-York, as calculated to elevate the character and standard of Wisconsin flour.

Markets....Carefully reported for N. Y. Daily Times.

FRIDAY, April 11—6 P. M.

ASHES—Are now held at $6 25@$6 37½ for Pearls, and $6 50@$6 62½ for Pots, ₩ 100 lbs.—but they remain scarce and quiet.

BEESWAX—American yellow is in rather light supply and moderate request, at 27c.@27½c. ₩ lb.

CANDLES—The market seems pretty active and steady.

COFFEE—Is generally more freely offered, and prices thereof favor buyers. The sales since our last comprise about 3,800 pkgs. Java, mainly at 14½c.; 300 bags Laguayra and Maracaibo at 11½c.@12½c.; and 800 Rio at 11½c.@12½c. ₩ lb. There are two auction sales of Rio announced for next week, one to occur on the 15th, and another on the 18th inst. These serve to make buyers cautious.

COPPER—Is salable and firm, at essentially unchanged prices.

COTTON—Is not so brisk, yet it is very stiffly held, and some factors claim a further advance. The sales of the past two days are estimated at nearly 16,000 bales, here and in transitu, closing at about 10⅝c.@11⅛c. for strictly middling Uplands, 10⅞c.@11c. for do. do. Orleans, and proportionate rates for other descriptions, ₩ lb.

FISH—The market for all kinds appears dull and heavy, though holders are reluctant to sell at lower rates. The demand is not animated, extending only as far as requisite to satisfy the immediate requirements of purchasers.

FLOUR AND MEAL—The market for State and Western Flour continues dull and heavy. The demand is restricted—buyers confining their purchases within the limits of their immediate wants. Holders are more disposed to sell, and manifest less firmness. Prices are languid and drooping. The sales since our last consist of about 6,800 bbls. in lots, mainly at prices within the annexed range:

Superfine No. 2	$5 75	@	6 37½
Ordinary State	6 37½	@	6 50
Straight State	6 50	@	6 75
Favorite and Extra State	6 75	@	7 25
Common to good Michigan	6 37½	@	6 75
Common to Good Indiana and Upper Lake	6 50	@	6 87½
Common to Good Ohio	6 62½	@	6 87½
Fancy Michigan	6 87½	@	7 12½
Fancy Ohio	6 87½	@	7 12½
Extra Michigan	7 00	@	8 00
Extra Indiana and Wisconsin	7 00	@	8 25
Extra Ohio	7 00	@	8 25
Fancy Genesee	6 75	@	7 25
Extra Genesee	7 25	@	10 00
Extra Missouri	7 25	@	10 50

Canadian remains unchanged—sales having been made of about 1,100 at Superfine to best Extra at $7@$9 ₩ bbl. Southern rules dull and heavy. The sales since our last amount to 1,600 bbls. inferior Mixed to medium and best Extra at $7 25@$10 ₩ bbl. Rye Flour is plenty and depressed, $4@$5 for Fine and Superfine, ₩ bbl. Corn Meal is selling readily at $3 25@$3 31¼ for Jersey and Baltimore, and $3 62½@$3 75 for Brandywine, ₩ bbl. Buckwheat Flour is dull and nominal.

GRAIN—Wheat is essentially unaltered in demand and value. The home and export inquiry is fair, but not at prices to suit factors of desirable kinds, which are all that attract any notice. Hence operations are restricted. The sales since our last have been confined to 9,800 bushels, including fair Southern White at $1 85@$1 95; with good to very choice do. Red at $1 70@$1 [illegible]; and common at Western Red at $1 60 ₩ bushel. [illegible]
